Goals of Skills Training

GENERAL GOAL
To learn how to change your own behaviors, emotions, and thoughts that are linked to problems in living and are causing misery and distress.

SPECIFIC GOALS
Behaviors to Decrease:

- Mindlessness; emptiness; being out of touch with self and others; judgmentalness.
- Interpersonal conflict and stress; loneliness.
- Absence of flexibility; difficulties with change.
- Up-and-down and extreme emotions; mood-dependent behavior; difficulties in regulating emotions.
- Impulsive behaviors; acting without thinking; difficulties accepting reality as it is; willfulness; addiction.

Skills to Increase:

- Mindfulness skills.
- Interpersonal effectiveness skills.
- Emotion regulation skills.
- Distress tolerance skills.

PERSONAL GOALS
Behaviors to Decrease:
1. ____________________________________________
2. ____________________________________________
3. ____________________________________________

Skills to Increase:
1. ____________________________________________
2. ____________________________________________
3. ____________________________________________
GENERAL HANDOUT 1A

Options for Solving Any Problem

When life presents you with problems, what are your options?

1. SOLVE THE PROBLEM
   Change the situation . . . or avoid, leave, or get out of the situation for good.

2. FEEL BETTER ABOUT THE PROBLEM
   Change (or regulate) your emotional response to the problem.

3. TOLERATE THE PROBLEM
   Accept and tolerate both the problem and your response to the problem.

4. STAY MISERABLE
   Or possibly make it worse!

1. TO PROBLEM-SOLVE:
   Use interpersonal effectiveness skills
   Walking the Middle Path (from interpersonal effectiveness skills)
   Use problem-solving skills (from emotion regulation skills)

2. TO FEEL BETTER ABOUT THE PROBLEM:
   Use emotion regulation skills

3. TO TOLERATE THE PROBLEM:
   Use distress tolerance and mindfulness skills

4. TO STAY MISERABLE:
   Use no skills!
Overview:
Introduction to Skills Training

GUIDELINES FOR SKILLS TRAINING

SKILLS TRAINING ASSUMPTIONS

BIOSOCIAL THEORY OF EMOTIONAL AND BEHAVIORAL DYSREGULATION
Guidelines for Skills Training

1. Participants who drop out of skills training are not out of skills training.
   a. The only way out is to miss four scheduled sessions of skills training in a row.

2. Participants who join the skills training group support each other and:
   a. Keep names of other participants and information obtained during sessions confidential.
   b. Come to each group session on time and stay until the end.
   c. Make every effort to practice skills between sessions.
   d. Validate each other, avoid judging each other, and assume the best about each other.
   e. Give helpful, noncritical feedback when asked.
   f. Are willing to accept help from a person they ask or call for help.

3. Participants who join the skills training group:
   a. Call ahead of time if they are going to be late or miss a session.

4. Participants do not tempt others to engage in problem behaviors and:
   a. Do not come to sessions under the influence of drugs or alcohol.
   b. If drugs or alcohol have already been used, come to sessions acting and appearing clean and sober.
   c. Do not discuss, inside or outside sessions, current or past problem behaviors that could be contagious to others.

5. Participants do not form confidential relationships with each other outside of skills training sessions and:
   a. Do not start a sexual or a private relationship that cannot be discussed in group.
   b. Are not partners in risky behaviors, crime, or drug use.

Other guidelines for this group/notes:
Skills Training Assumptions

An assumption is a belief that cannot be proved, but we agree to abide by it anyway.

1. People are doing the best they can.
   All people at any given point in time are doing the best they can.

2. People want to improve.
   The common characteristic of all people is that they want to improve their lives and be happy.

3. People need to do better, try harder, and be more motivated to change.*
   The fact that people are doing the best they can, and want to do even better, does not mean that these things are enough to solve the problem.

4. People may not have caused all of our own problems, but they have to solve them anyway.
   People have to change their own behavioral responses and alter their environment for their life to change.

5. New behavior has to be learned in all relevant contexts.
   New behavioral skills have to be practiced in the situations where the skills are needed, not just in the situation where the skills are first learned.

6. All behaviors (actions, thoughts, emotions) are caused.
   There is always a cause or set of causes for our actions, thoughts, and emotions, even if we do not know what the causes are.

7. Figuring out and changing the causes of behavior work better than judging and blaming.
   Judging and blaming are easier, but if we want to create change in the world, we have to change the chains of events that cause unwanted behaviors and events.

*But trying harder and being more motivated may not be needed if progress is steady and at a realistic rate of improvement.

Parents and caregivers must assist children in this task.

Biosocial Theory

Why do I have so much trouble controlling my emotions and my actions?

Emotional vulnerability is BIOLOGICAL:
It’s simply how some people are born.

- They are more sensitive to emotional stimuli; they can detect subtle emotional information in the environment that others don’t even notice.
- They experience emotions much more often than others.
- Their emotions seem to hit for no reason, from out of the blue.

- They have more intense emotions.
  - Their emotions hit like a ton of bricks.
  - And their emotions are long-lasting.

Impulsivity also has a BIOLOGICAL basis:
Regulating action is harder for some than for others.

- They find it very hard to restrain impulsive behaviors.
  - Often, without thinking, they do things that get them in trouble.
  - Sometimes their behavior seems to come out of nowhere.

- They find it very hard to be effective.
  - Their moods get in the way of organizing to achieve their goals.
  - They cannot control behaviors linked to their moods.

An invalidating SOCIAL environment can make it very hard to regulate emotions.

- An invalidating environment doesn’t seem to understand your emotions.
- It tells you your emotions are invalid, weird, wrong, or bad.
- It often ignores your emotional reactions and does nothing to help you.
- It may say things like “Don’t be such a baby!” “Quit your blubbering.” “Quit being such a chicken and just solve the problem.” or “Normal people don’t get this frustrated.”

- People who invalidate are OFTEN DOING THE BEST THEY CAN.
  - They may not know how to validate or how important it is to validate, or they may be afraid that if they validate your emotions, you will get more emotional, not less.
  - They may be under high stress or time pressure, or they may have too few resources themselves.
  - There may be just a poor fit between you and your social environment: You may be a tulip in a rose garden.

An ineffective SOCIAL environment is a big problem when you want to learn to regulate emotions and actions.

- Your environment may reinforce out-of-control emotions and actions.
  - If people give in when you get out of control, it will be hard for you to get in control.
  - If others command you to change, but don’t coach you on how to do this, it will be hard to keep on trying to change.

It’s the TRANSACTIONS that count between the person and the social environment.

- Biology and the social environment influence the person.
- The person reciprocates and influences his or her social environment.
- The social environment reciprocates and influences the person.
- And so on and on and on.
Handouts for Analyzing Behavior
GENERAL HANDOUT 6
(General Worksheets 2, 3)

Overview:
Analyzing Behavior

To figure out its causes and plan for problem solving.

Chain Analysis
is for when you engage in ineffective behavior.
A chain analysis examines the chain of events that leads to ineffective behaviors, as well as the consequences of those behaviors that may be making it hard to change them. It also helps you figure out how to repair the damage.

Missing-Links Analysis
is for when you fail to engage in effective behaviors.
A missing-links analysis helps you identify what got in the way of doing things you needed or hoped to do, things you agreed to do, or things others expected you to do. It also helps you problem-solve for the future.
GENERAL HANDOUT 7
(General Worksheets 2, 2a)

Chain Analysis

TO UNDERSTAND BEHAVIOR, DO A CHAIN ANALYSIS.

Step 1: Describe the PROBLEM BEHAVIOR.

Step 2: Describe the PROMPTING EVENT that started the chain of events leading to the problem behavior.

Step 3: Describe the factors happening before the event that made you VULNERABLE to starting down the chain of events toward the problem behavior.

Step 4: Describe in excruciating detail the CHAIN OF EVENTS that led to the problem behavior.

Step 5: Describe the CONSEQUENCES of the problem behavior.

To change behavior:

Step 6: Describe SKILLFUL behaviors to replace problem links in the chain of events.

Step 7: Develop PREVENTION PLANS to reduce vulnerability to stressful events.

Step 8: REPAIR important or significant consequences of the problem behavior.
Chain Analysis, Step by Step

1. Describe the specific PROBLEM BEHAVIOR (overeating or overdrinking, yelling at your kids, throwing a chair, having an overwhelming emotional outburst, dissociating, not coming or coming late to skills training, putting off or refusing to do skills practice, etc.).
   A. Be very specific and detailed. No vague terms.
   B. Identify exactly what you did, said, thought, or felt (if feelings are the targeted problem behavior). Identify what you did not do.
   C. Describe the intensity of the behavior and other characteristics of the behavior that are important.
   D. Describe the problem behavior in enough detail that an actor in a play or movie could recreate the behavior exactly.
   E. If the behavior is something you did not do, ask yourself whether (a) you did not know you needed to do it (it did not get into short-term memory); (b) you forgot it and later it never came into your mind to do it (it did not get into long-term memory); (c) you put it off when you did think of it; (d) you refused to do it when you thought of it; or (e) you were willful and rejected doing it, or some other behavior, thoughts, or emotions interfered with doing it. If (a) or (b) is the case, skip from here to Step 6 below (working on solutions). Otherwise, keep going from here.

2. Describe the specific PROMPTING EVENT that started the whole chain of behavior. Begin with the environmental event that started the chain. Always begin with some event in your environment, even if it doesn’t seem to you that the environmental event “caused” the problem behavior. Otherwise, we could ask about any behavior, thought, feeling, or experience, “What prompted that?” Possible questions to help you get at this are:
   A. What exact event precipitated the start of the chain reaction?
   B. When did the sequence of events that led to the problem behavior begin? When did the problem start?
   C. What was going on right before the thought of or impulse for the problem behavior occurred?
   D. What were you doing/thinking/feeling/imagining at that time?
   E. Why did the problem behavior happen on that day instead of the day before?

3. Describe specific VULNERABILITY FACTORS happening before the prompting event. What factors or events made you more vulnerable to reacting to the prompting event with a problematic chain? Areas to examine are:
   A. Physical illness; unbalanced eating or sleeping; injury.
   B. Use of drugs or alcohol; misuse of prescription drugs.
   C. Stressful events in the environment (either positive or negative).
   D. Intense emotions, such as sadness, anger, fear, loneliness.
   E. Previous behaviors of your own that you found stressful coming into your mind.

4. Describe in excruciating detail the chain of events that led to the problem behavior. Imagine that your problem behavior is chained to the precipitating event in the environment. How long is the chain? Where does it go? What are the links? Write out all links in the chain of events, no matter how small. Be very specific, as if you are writing a script for a play. Links in the chain can be:

A. Actions or things you do.
B. Body sensations or feelings.
C. Cognitions (i.e., beliefs, expectations, or thoughts).
D. Events in the environment or things others do.
E. Feelings and emotions that you experience.

What exact thought (or belief), feeling, or action followed the prompting event? What thought, feeling, or action followed that? What next? What next? And so forth.

- Look at each link in the chain after you write it. Was there another thought, feeling, or action that could have occurred? Could someone else have thought, felt, or acted differently at that point? If so, explain how that specific thought, feeling, or action came to be.
- For each link in the chain, ask whether there is a smaller link you could describe.

5. Describe the consequences of this behavior. Be specific. (How did other people react immediately and later? How did you feel immediately following the behavior? Later? What effect did the behavior have on you and your environment?)

6. Describe in detail at each point where you could have used a skillful behavior to head off the problem behavior. What key links were most important in leading to the problem behavior? (In other words, if you had eliminated these behaviors, the problem behavior probably would not have happened.)

A. Go back to the chain of behaviors following the prompting event. Circle each link where, if you had done something different, you would have avoided the problem behavior.
B. What could you have done differently at each link in the chain of events to avoid the problem behavior? What coping behaviors or skillful behaviors could you have used?

7. Describe in detail a prevention strategy for how you could have kept the chain from starting by reducing your vulnerability to the chain.

8. Describe what you are going to do to repair important or significant consequences of the problem behavior.

A. Analyze: What did you really harm? What was the negative consequence you can repair?
B. Look at the harm or distress you actually caused others, and the harm or distress you caused yourself. Repair what you damaged. (Don’t bring flowers to repair a window you broke: fix the window! Repair a betrayal of trust by being very trustworthy long enough to fit the betrayal, rather than trying to fix it with love letters and constant apologies. Repair failure by succeeding, not by berating yourself.)
GENERAL HANDOUT 8
(General Worksheet 3)

Missing-Links Analysis

Ask the following questions to understand how and why effective behavior that is needed or expected did not occur.

1. Did you know what effective behavior was needed or expected (what skills homework was given, what skills to use, etc.)?

   IF NO to Question 1, ask what got in the way of knowing what was needed or expected. Ideas might include not paying attention, unclear instructions, never getting the instructions in the first place, becoming too overwhelmed and couldn't process the information, and so on.

   PROBLEM-SOLVE what got in the way. For example, you might work on paying attention, ask for clarification when you don't understand instructions, call others, look up information, and so on.

2. IF YES to Question 1, ask were you willing to do the needed or expected effective behavior?

   IF NO to Question 2, ask what got in the way of willingness to do effective behaviors. Ideas might include willfulness, feeling inadequate, or feeling demoralized.

   PROBLEM-SOLVE what got in the way of willingness. For example, you might practice radical acceptance, do pros and cons, practice opposite action, and so on.

3. IF YES to Question 2, ask did the thought of doing the needed or expected effective behavior ever enter your mind?

   IF NO to Question 3,

   PROBLEM-SOLVE how to get the thought of doing effective behaviors into your mind. For example, you might put it on your calendar, set your alarm to go off, put your skills notebook next to your bed, practice coping ahead with difficult situations (see Emotion Regulation Handout 19), and so on.

4. IF YES to Question 3, ask what got in the way of doing the needed or expected effective behavior right away? Ideas might include putting it off, continuing to procrastinate, not being in the mood, forgetting how to do what was needed, thinking that no one would care anyway (or no one would find out), and so on.

   PROBLEM-SOLVE what got in the way. For example, you might set a reward for doing what is expected, practice opposite action, do pros and cons, and so on.

MINDFULNESS HANDOUT 1A

Mindfulness Definitions

WHAT IS MINDFULNESS?

• Intentionally living with awareness in the present moment.
  (Waking up from automatic or rote behaviors to participate and be present to our own lives.)

• Without judging or rejecting the moment.
  (Noticing consequences, discerning helpfulness and harmfulness—but letting go of evaluating, avoiding, suppressing, or blocking the present moment.)

• Without attachment to the moment.
  (Attending to the experience of each new moment, rather than ignoring the present by clinging to the past or grabbing for the future.)

WHAT ARE MINDFULNESS SKILLS?

• Mindfulness skills are the specific behaviors to practice that, when put together, make up mindfulness.

WHAT IS MINDFULNESS PRACTICE?

• Mindfulness and mindfulness skills can be practiced at any time, anywhere, while doing anything. Intentionally paying attention to the moment, without judging it or holding on to it, is all that is needed.

• Meditation is practicing mindfulness and mindfulness skills while sitting, standing, or lying quietly for a predetermined period of time. When meditating, we focus the mind (for example, we focus on body sensations, emotions, thoughts, or our breath), or we open the mind (paying attention to whatever comes into our awareness). There are many forms of meditation that differ mostly by whether we are opening the mind or focusing the mind—and, if focusing, depending on what is the focus of our attention.

• Contemplative prayer (such as Christian centering prayer, the rosary, Jewish Shema, Islamic Sufi practice, or Hindu raja yoga) is a spiritual mindfulness practice.

• Mindfulness movement also has many forms. Examples include yoga, martial arts (such as Qigong, tai chi, akido, and karate), and spiritual dancing. Hiking, horseback riding, and walking can also be ways to practice mindfulness.
MINDFULNESS HANDOUT 2
(Mindfulness Worksheets 2–2c, 3)

Overview:
Core Mindfulness Skills

WISE MIND:
STATES OF MIND

“WHAT” SKILLS
(what you do when practicing mindfulness):
Observing, Describing, Participating

“HOW” SKILLS
(how you practice when practicing mindfulness):
Nonjudgmentally, One-Mindfully, Effectively
MINDFULNESS HANDOUT 3
(Mindfulness Worksheet 3)

Wise Mind: States of Mind

REASONABLE MIND  Wise MIND  EMOTION MIND

Reasonable Mind Is:
Cool
Rational
Task-Focused

When in reasonabe mind, you are ruled by facts, reason, logic, and pragmatics. Values and feelings are not important.

Emotion Mind Is:
Hot
Mood-Dependent
Emotion-Focused

When in emotion mind, you are ruled by your moods, feelings, and urges to do or say things. Facts, reason, and logic are not important.

Wise Mind Is:
The wisdom within each person
Seeing the value of both reason and emotion
Bringing left brain and right brain together
The middle path
Ideas for Practicing Wise Mind

The mindfulness skills often require a lot of practice. As with any new skill, it is important to first practice when you don’t need the skill. If you practice in easier situations, the skill will become automatic, and you will have the skill when you need it. Practice with your eyes closed and with your eyes open.

1. Stone flake on the lake. Imagine that you are by a clear blue lake on a beautiful sunny day. Then imagine that you are a small flake of stone, flat and light. Imagine that you have been tossed out onto the lake and are now gently, slowly, floating through the calm, clear blue water to the lake’s smooth, sandy bottom.
   - Notice what you see, what you feel as you float down, perhaps in slow circles, floating toward the bottom. As you reach the bottom of the lake, settle your attention there within yourself.
   - Notice the serenity of the lake; become aware of the calmness and quiet deep within.
   - As you reach the center of your self, settle your attention there.

2. Walking down the spiral stairs. Imagine that within you is a spiral staircase, winding down to your very center. Starting at the top walk very slowly down the staircase, going deeper and deeper within yourself.
   - Notice the sensations. Rest by sitting on a step, or turn on lights on the way down if you wish. Do not force yourself further than you want to go. Notice the quiet. As you reach the center of your self, settle your attention there—perhaps in your gut or your abdomen.

   - Focus your entire attention on the word “wise,” then, focus it again entirely on the word “mind.”
   - Continue until you sense that you have settled into Wise Mind.

4. Asking Wise Mind a question. Breathing in, silently ask Wise Mind a question.
   - Breathing out, listen for the answer.
   - Listen, but do not give yourself the answer. Do not tell yourself the answer; listen for it.
   - Continue asking on each in-breath for some time. If no answer comes, try again another time.

5. Asking is this Wise Mind? Breathing in, ask yourself, “Is this (action, thought, plan, etc.) Wise Mind?”
   - Breathing out, listen for the answer.
   - Listen, but do not give yourself the answer. Do not tell yourself the answer; listen for it.
   - Continue asking on each in-breath for some time. If no answer comes, try again another time.

6. Attending to your breath coming in and out, let your attention settle into your center.
   - Breathing in completely, notice and follow the sensations of your breath coming in.
   - Let your attention settle into your center, at the bottom of your breath, at your solar plexus—or
   - Let your attention settle in the center of your forehead, your “third eye,” at the top of your breath.
   - Keeping your attention at your center, exhale, breathing normally, maintaining attention.
   - Settle into Wise Mind.

7. Expanding awareness. Breathing in, focus your awareness on your center.
   - Breathing out, stay aware of your center, but expand awareness to the space you are in now.
   - Continue on in the moment.

8. Dropping into the pauses between inhaling and exhal ing.
   - Breathing in, notice the pause after inhaling (top of breath).
   - Breathing out, notice the pause after exhaling (bottom of breath).
   - At each pause, let yourself “fall into” the center space within the pause.

9. Other Wise Mind practice ideas:

MINDFULNESS HANDOUT 4
(Mindfulness Worksheets 2–2c, 4–4b)

Taking Hold of Your Mind: “What” Skills

OBSERVE

☐ Notice your body sensations (coming through your eyes, ears, nose, skin, and tongue).

☐ Pay attention on purpose, to the present moment.

☐ Control your attention, but not what you see. Push away nothing. Cling to nothing.

☐ Practice wordless watching: Watch thoughts come into your mind and let them slip right by like clouds in the sky. Notice each feeling, rising and falling, like waves in the ocean.

☐ Observe both inside and outside yourself.

DESCRIBE

☐ Put words on the experience. When a feeling or thought arises, or you do something, acknowledge it. For example, say in your mind, “Sadness has just enveloped me,” or “Stomach muscles tightening,” or “A thought ‘I can’t do this’ has come into my mind.”

☐ Label what you observe. Put a name on your feelings. Label a thought as just a thought, a feeling as just a feeling, an action as just an action.

☐ Unglue your interpretations and opinions from the facts. Describe the “who, what, when, and where” that you observe. Just the facts.

☐ Remember, If you can’t observe it through your senses, you can’t describe it.

PARTICIPATE

☐ Throw yourself completely into activities of the current moment. Do not separate yourself from what is going on in the moment (dancing, cleaning, talking to a friend, feeling happy or feeling sad).

☐ Become one with whatever you are doing, completely forgetting yourself. Throw your attention to the moment.

☐ Act intuitively from Wise Mind. Do just what is needed in each situation—a skillful dancer on the dance floor, one with the music and your partner, neither willful nor sitting on your hands.

☐ Go with the flow. Respond with spontaneity.

Ideas for Practicing Observing
BY COMING BACK TO YOUR SENSES

Remember: Observing is bringing your mind back to the sensations of your body and mind.

Observe with your eyes:
1. Lie on the ground and watch the clouds in the sky.
2. Walking slowly, stopping somewhere with a view, notice flowers, trees, and nature itself.
3. Sit outside. Watch who and what go by in front of you, without following them with your head or your eyes.
4. Notice the facial expression and movements of another person. Refrain from labeling the person’s emotions, thoughts, or interests.
5. Notice just the eyes, lips, or hands of another person (or just one feature of an animal).
6. Pick up a leaf, a flower, or a pebble. Look at it closely, trying to see each detail.
7. Find something beautiful to look at, and spend a few minutes contemplating it.
8. Other: __________

Observe sounds:
9. Stop for a moment and just listen. Listen to the texture and shape of the sounds around you. Listen to the silences between the sounds.
10. If someone is talking, listen to the pitch of the voice, to the smoothness or roughness of the sounds, to the clarity or the mumbling of the speech, to the pauses between the words.
11. Listen to music, observing each note as it comes and the spaces between the notes. Try breathing the sounds into your body and letting them flow out again on your out breath.
12. Other: __________

Observe smells around you:
13. Breathing in, notice any smells around you. Bring something close to your nose, and notice the smells. Take it away, and then notice the smells again. Do they linger?
14. When eating, notice the aroma of the food; when cooking, notice the aroma of the spices or other ingredients; when bathing, smell the soap or shampoo; when walking outside, notice the aroma of the air; when near flowers, bend down and “smell the roses.”
15. Other: __________

Observe taste and the act of eating:
16. Putting something in your mouth, pay attention to the taste. Keep it in your mouth, and notice all the taste sensations.
17. Lick a lollipop or something else. Notice just the sensation of taste.
18. Eat a meal, or even a part of a meal, paying attention to the taste of each mouthful.
19. Other: __________

Observe urges to do something:
When you are feeling an urge to do something impulsive,
20. “Urge-surf” by imagining that your urges are a surfboard and you are standing on the board, riding the waves.
21. Notice any urge to avoid someone or something.
22. Scan your entire body, and notice the sensations. Where in the body is the urge?
23. When you are chewing your food, notice when you have the urge to swallow.
24. Other: __________

Observe sensations of touch on your skin:
25. Stroke your upper lip with your fingernail.
   - Stop stroking, and notice how long it takes before you can’t sense your upper lip at all.
26. When walking, notice the sensations of walking—your feet hitting the ground and rising up and down. Sometimes walk very slowly and notice. Sometimes walk very fast and notice.
27. When sitting, notice your thighs on the chair. Notice the curve of your knees and your back.
28. Pay attention to anything touching you.
   - Try to feel your feet in your shoes, your body touching your clothes.
   - Feel your arms touching a chair.
   - Notice the sensations of your hands.
29. Touch something—the wall, a fabric, a table top, a pet, a piece of fruit, a person.
   - Notice the texture of what you feel, notice the sensations on your skin.
   - Try it again with another part of your body.
   - Notice the sensations again.
30. Focus your attention on the sensations in your chest, your stomach, or your shoulders.
31. Focus your attention on the place in your body where you feel tight or tense.
32. Focus your attention on the space between your eyes.
33. Other: ____________________________

Observe your breath: Breathe evenly and gently, focusing your attention on:
34. The movement of your stomach.
   - As you begin to breathe in, allow your belly to rise in order to bring air into the lower half of your lungs.
   - As the upper halves of your lungs begin to fill with air, your chest begins to rise.
   - As you breathe out, notice your belly, then notice your chest. Don’t tire yourself.
35. The pauses in your breathing.
   - As you breathe in, notice the brief pause when your lungs have filled with air.
   - As you breathe out, notice the brief pause when you have expelled all the air.
36. The sensations in your nose as you breathe in and as you breathe out.
   - As you breathe, close your mouth and breathe in through your nose, noticing the sensations traveling up and down your nostrils.
37. Your breath while walking slowly. Breathe normally.
   - Determine the length of your breath—the exhalation and the inhalation—by the number of your footsteps. Continue for a few minutes.
   - Begin to lengthen your exhalation by one step. Do not force a longer inhalation. Let it be natural.
   - Watch your inhalation carefully to see whether there is a desire to lengthen it. Now lengthen the exhalation by one more footstep.
   - Watch to see whether the inhalation also lengthens by one step or not.
   - Only lengthen the inhalation when you feel that it will be comfortable.
   - After 20 breaths, return your breath to normal.
38. Your breath while listening to a piece of music.
   - Breathe long, light, and even breaths.
   - Follow your breath; be master of it, while remaining aware of the movement and sentiments of the music.
   - Do not get lost in the music, but continue to be master of your breath and yourself.
39. Your breath while listening to a friend’s words and your own replies. Continue as with music.
40. Other: ____________________________

Observe thoughts coming in and out of your mind:
41. Notice thoughts as they come into your mind.
   - Ask, “Where do thoughts come from?”
   - Then watch them to see if you can see where they come into your mind.
42. As you notice thoughts in your mind, notice the pauses between each thought.
43. Imagine that your mind is the sky and that thoughts are clouds.
   - Notice each thought-cloud as it drifts by, letting it drift in and out of your mind.
   - Imagine thoughts as leaves on water flowing down a stream, as boats drifting by on the lake, or as train cars rolling by you.
44. When worries go round and round in your mind, move your attention to the sensations in your body (those most intense right now). Then, keeping your attention on your body sensations, notice how long it takes for the worries to ooze away.
45. Step back from your mind, as if you are on top of a mountain and your mind is just a boulder down below.
   - Gaze at your mind, watching what thoughts come up when you are watching it.
   - Come back into your mind before you stop.
46. Watch for the first two thoughts that come into your mind.
47. Other:

Imagine that your mind is a:
48. Conveyor belt, and that thoughts and feelings are coming down the belt.
   - Put each thought or feeling in a box, and then put it on the conveyor belt and let it go by.
49. Conveyor belt, and that you are sorting thoughts and feelings as they come down the belt.
   - Label the types of thoughts or feelings coming by (e.g., worry thoughts, thoughts about my past, thoughts about my mother, planning-what-to-do thoughts, angry feeling, sad feelings).
   - Put them in boxes nearby for another time.
50. River, and that thoughts and feelings are boats going down the river.
   - Imagine sitting on the grass, watching the boats go by.
   - Describe or label each boat as it goes by.
   - Try not to jump on the boat.
51. Railroad track, and that thoughts and feelings are train cars going by.
   - Describe or label each as it goes by. Try not to jump on the train.
52. Other:

Observe by expanding awareness:
53. Breathing in, notice your breath. Then, keeping your breath in your awareness, on the next breath notice your hands. Then, keeping both in your awareness, on the next breath expand your awareness to sounds.
   - Continue holding all three in awareness at the same time.
   - Practice this awareness of threes at other times, selecting other things to be aware of.
54. Keeping your focus on what you are currently doing, gently expand your awareness to include the space around you.
55. Go hug a tree, and feel the sensations of the embrace.
   - Attend to the embrace of the sheets and blankets or comforters around you as you lie in bed.
   - Do this when you feel lonely and want to be loved or to love.
56. Other:

Open your mind to your senses:

57. Practice walking with your senses as wide open as you can make them.
   - Notice what you hear, see, and feel.
   - Notice what you feel when shifting your weight between each step.
   - Notice your body experience as you turn.

58. For one mouthful in a meal, pause with a spoonful or forkful of food.
   - Look at what you are going to eat, smell it, and listen to it. Then, when you are ready, put it in your mouth.
   - Note the taste, texture, temperature, and even the sound your teeth make in chewing your mouthful slowly.
   - Note the changes in its taste, texture, temperature, and sound as you chew it to completion.

59. Focus your mind on paying attention to each sensation that comes into your mind.
   - Attend to sensations of sight, smell, touch, hearing, and taste, or to the thoughts generated by your brain.
   - Notice sensations as they arise, and notice them as they fall away.
   - Let your mind focus on each sensation as it arises.
   - Notice each sensation with curiosity, allowing it to be. Examine the uniqueness of each sensation.

60. Be here. Be in the present now.
   - Take a moment to notice every sense you are aware of.
   - To yourself, make a statement, about each sense: “I feel the chair; the chair feels me.”
     “I hear the heater; the heater hears me.” “I see the wall; the wall sees me.” “I hear a stomach growl; it hears me.”

61. When a feeling arises within you, notice it—saying, for example, “A feeling of sadness is arising within me.”

62. When a thought arises within you, notice it—saying, for example, “The thought ‘It is hot in here’ is arising within me.”

63. Take just a moment of your time, and practice “nothing-to-do” mind.
   - Let yourself become completely aware of your present experience, noticing sensations and the space around you.

64. Find a small object, one you can hold in your hand. Place it in front of you on a table or in your lap. Observe it closely—first not moving it, and then picking it up and turning it over and around, gazing at it from different angles and in different lights. Just notice shapes, colors, sizes, and other characteristics that are visible.
   - Then change your focus to your fingers and hands touching the object. Notice the sensations of touching the object; notice the texture, temperature, and feel of the object.
   - Put the object down. Close your eyes, and inhale and exhale deeply and slowly.
   - Then, with beginner’s mind, open your eyes. With new vision, once again notice the object. With beginner’s mind, open to feeling new textures and sensations, explore the object with your fingers and hands.
   - Put down the object, and once again focus your mind on inhaling and exhaling once.

65. Other: ___________________________________________________________
Ideas for Practicing Describing

Practice describing what you see outside of yourself:

1. Lie on the ground and watch the clouds in the sky. Find and describe cloud patterns that you see.
2. Sit on a bench on a busy street or at a park. Describe one thing about each person who walks by you.
3. Find things in nature—a leaf, a drop of water, a pet or other animal. Describe each thing in as much detail as you can.
4. Describe as accurately as you can what a person has just said to you. Check to see if you are correct.
5. Describe a person’s face when the person seems angry, afraid, or sad. Notice and describe the shape, movement, and placement of the forehead, eyebrows, and eyes; the lips and mouth; the cheeks; and so on.
6. Describe what a person has done or is doing now. Be very specific. Avoid describing intentions or outcomes of the behavior that you do not directly observe. Avoid judgmental language.
7. Other:

Practice describing thoughts and feelings:

8. Describe your feelings as they arise within you: “A feeling of anger is arising within me.”
9. Describe your thoughts when you feel a strong emotion: “I feel X, and my thoughts are Y.”
10. Describe your feelings after someone else does or says something: “When you do X, I feel Y.”
11. Describe thoughts, feelings, and what you observed others do: “When you do X, I feel Y, and my thoughts are Z.” “When X occurs, I feel Y, and my thoughts are Z.”
12. Describe as many of your thoughts as you can while feeling a strong emotion.
13. Other:

Practice describing your breathing:

14. Each time you inhale and exhale, as you inhale, be aware that “I am inhaling, 1.” When you exhale, be aware that “I am exhaling, 1.” Remember to breathe from the stomach. When beginning the second inhalation, be aware that “I am inhaling, 2.” And, slowly exhaling, be aware that “I am exhaling, 2.” Continue on up through 10. After you have reached 10, return to 1. Whenever you lose count, return to 1.
15. Begin to inhale gently and normally (from the stomach), describing in your mind that “I am inhaling normally.” Exhale in awareness, “I am exhaling normally.” Continue for three breaths. On the fourth breath, extend the inhalation, describing in your mind that “I am breathing in a long inhalation.” Exhale in awareness, “I am breathing out a long exhalation.” Continue for three breathes.
16. Follow the entrance and exit of air. Say to yourself, “I am inhaling and following the inhalation from its beginning to its end. I am exhaling and following the exhalation from its beginning to its end.”
17. Other:
Idea for Practicing Participating

Participate with awareness of connection to the universe:

1. Focus your attention on where your body touches an object (floor or ground, air molecules, a chair or armrest, your bed sheets and covers, your clothes, etc.). Try to see all the ways you are connected to and accepted by that object. Consider the function of that object with relation to you. That is, consider what the object does for you. Consider its kindness in doing that. Experience the sensation of touching the object, and focus your entire attention on that kindness until a sense of being connected or loved or cared for arises in your heart.

   Examples: Focus your attention on your feet touching the ground. Consider the kindness of the ground holding you up, providing a path for you to get to other things, not letting you fall away from everything else. Focus your attention on your body touching the chair you sit in. Consider how the chair accepts you totally, holds you up, supports your back, and keeps you from falling down on the floor. Focus your attention on the sheets and covers on your bed. Consider the touch of the sheets and covers holding you, surrounding and keeping you warm and comfortable. Consider the walls in the room. They keep out the wind and the cold and the rain. Think of how the walls are connected to you via the floor and the air in the room. Experience your connection to the walls that provide you with a secure place to do things. Go hug a tree. Think of how you and the tree are connected. Life is in you and in the tree and both of you are warmed by the sun, held by the air and supported by the earth. Try and experience the tree loving you by providing something to lean on, or by shading you.

2. Dance to music.

3. Sing along with music you are listening to.

4. Sing in the shower.

5. Sing and dance while watching TV.

6. Jump out of bed and dance, or sing before getting dressed.

7. Go to a church that sings, and join in the singing.

8. Play karaoke with friends or at a karaoke club or bar.

9. Throw yourself into what another person is saying.

10. Go running, focusing only on running.

11. Play a sport and throw yourself into playing.

12. Become the count of the breath, becoming only “one” when you count 1, becoming only “two” when you count 2, and so on.

13. Become a word as you slowly say the word over and over and over.

14. Take a class in improvisational acting.

15. Take a dance class.

16. Other:
Taking Hold of Your Mind: “How” Skills

NONJUDGMENTALLY

- See, but don’t evaluate as good or bad. Just the facts.
- Accept each moment like a blanket spread out on the lawn, accepting both the rain and the sun and each leaf that falls upon it.
- Acknowledge the difference between the helpful and the harmful, the safe and the dangerous, but don’t judge them.
- Acknowledge your values, your wishes, your emotional reactions, but don’t judge them.
- When you find yourself judging, don’t judge your judging.

ONE-MINDFULLY

- Rivet yourself to now. Be completely present to this one moment.
- Do one thing at a time. Notice the desire to be half-present, to be somewhere else, to go somewhere else in your mind, to do something else, to multitask—and then come back to one thing at a time.
  - When you are eating, eat.
  - When you are walking, walk.
  - When you are worrying, worry.
  - When you are planning, plan.
  - When you are remembering, remember.
- Let go of distractions. If other actions, or other thoughts, or strong feelings distract you, go back to what you are doing—again, and again, and again.
- Concentrate your mind. If you find you are doing two things at once, stop—go back to one thing at a time (the opposite of multitasking!).

EFFECTIVELY

- Be mindful of your goals in the situation, and do what is necessary to achieve them.
- Focus on what works. (Don’t let emotion mind get in the way of being effective.)
- Play by the rules.
- Act as skillfully as you can. Do what is needed for the situation you are in—not the situation you wish you were in; not the one that is fair; not the one that is more comfortable.
- Let go of willfulness and sitting on your hands.
Ideas for Practicing Nonjudgmentalness

Leaving out comparisons, judgments, and assumptions:

1. Practice observing judgmental thoughts and statements, saying in your mind, “A judgmental thought arose in my mind.”

2. Count judgmental thoughts and statements (by moving objects or pieces of paper from one pocket to another, by clicking a sports counter, or by marking a piece of paper).

3. Replace judgmental thoughts and statements with nonjudgmental thoughts and statements.

Tips for replacing judgment by stating the facts:

1. Describe the facts of the event or situation—only what is observed with your senses.

2. Describe the consequences of the event. Keep to the facts.

3. Describe your own feelings in response to the facts (remember, emotions are not judgments).

4. Observe your judgmental facial expressions, postures, and voice tones (including voice tones in your head).

5. Change judgmental expressions, postures, and voice tones.

6. Tell someone what you did today nonjudgmentally, or about an event that occurred. Stay very concrete; only relate what you observed directly.

7. Write out a nonjudgmental description of an event that prompted an emotion.

8. Write out a nonjudgmental blow-by-blow account of a particularly important episode in your day. Describe both what happened in your environment and what your thoughts, feelings, and actions were. Leave out any analysis of why something happened, or why you thought, felt, or acted as you did. Stick to the facts that you observed.

9. Imagine a person you are angry with. Bring to mind what the person has done that has caused so much anger. Try to become that person, seeing life from that person’s point of view. Imagine that person’s feelings, thoughts, fears, hopes, and wishes. Imagine that person’s history and what has happened in his or her history. Imagine understanding that person.

10. When judgmental, practice half-smiling and/or willing hands. (See Distress Tolerance Handout 14: Half-Smiling and Willing Hands.)

11. Other:
Ideas for Practicing One-Mindfulness

1. Awareness while making tea or coffee. Prepare a pot of tea or coffee to serve a guest or to drink by yourself. Do each movement slowly, in awareness. Do not let one detail of your movements go by without being aware of it. Know that your hand lifts the pot by its handle. Know that you are pouring the fragrant, warm tea or coffee into the cup. Follow each step in awareness. Breathe gently and more deeply than usual. Take hold of your breath if your mind strays.

2. Awareness while washing the dishes. Wash the dishes consciously, as though each bowl is an object of contemplation. Consider each bowl sacred. Follow your breath to prevent your mind from straying. Do not try to hurry to get the job over with. Consider washing the dishes the most important thing in life.

3. Awareness while hand-washing clothes. Do not wash too many clothes at one time. Select only three or four articles of clothing. Find the most comfortable position to sit or stand, so as to prevent a backache. Scrub the clothes consciously. Hold your attention on every movement of your hands and arms. Pay attention to the soap and water. When you have finished scrubbing and rinsing, your mind and body will feel as clean and fresh as your clothes. Remember to maintain a half-smile and take hold of your breath whenever your mind wanders.

4. Awareness while cleaning house. Divide your work into stages: straightening things and putting away books, scrubbing the toilet, scrubbing the bathroom, sweeping the floors, and dusting. Allow a good length of time for each task. Move slowly, three times more slowly than usual. Focus your attention fully on each task. For example, while placing a book on the shelf, look at the book; be aware of what book it is; know that you are in the process of placing it on the shelf; and know that you intend to put it in that specific place. Know that your hand reaches for the book and picks it up. Avoid any abrupt or harsh movement. Maintain awareness of the breath, especially when your thoughts wander.

5. Awareness while taking a slow-motion bath. Allow yourself 30–45 minutes to take a bath. Don’t hurry for even a second. From the moment you prepare the bath water to the moment you put on clean clothes, let every motion be light and slow. Be attentive of every movement. Place your attention on every part of your body, without discrimination or fear. Be aware of each stream of water on your body. By the time you’ve finished, your mind will feel as peaceful and light as your body. Follow your breath. Think of yourself as being in a clean and fragrant lotus pond in the summer.

6. Awareness with meditation. Sit comfortably on the floor with your back straight, on the floor or in a chair with both feet touching the floor. Close your eyes all the way, or open them slightly and gaze at something near. With each breath, say to yourself, quietly and gently, the word “One.” As you inhale, say the word “One.” As you exhale, say the word “One,” calmly and slowly. Try to collect your whole mind and put it into this one word. When your mind strays, return gently to saying “One.” If you start wanting to move, try not to move. Just gently observe wanting to move. Continue practicing a little past wanting to stop. Just gently observe wanting to stop.

7. Other: __________________________

Idea for Practicing Effectiveness

1. □ Observe when you begin to get angry or hostile with someone. Ask yourself, “Is this effective?”

2. □ Observe yourself when you start wanting to be “right” instead of effective. Give up being “right” and switch to trying to be effective.

3. □ Notice willfulness in yourself. Ask yourself, “Is this effective?”

5. □ When feeling angry or hostile or like you’re about to do something ineffective, practice willing hands.

Wise Mind from the perspective of mysticism

(seven characteristics of mystical experiences)

- Direct experience: Experience without words of ultimate reality.
- Experience of unity: Awareness of oneness and of no distance between oneself, reality, and all other beings.
- Without words: Experience of reality that cannot be grasped and can only be described with metaphors and stories.
- Certain: During the experience, certainty of the experience is total, undeniable, clear.
- Practical: Experience that is concretely beneficial to one’s life and well-being.
- Integrative: Experience that establishes harmony of love, compassion, mercy, kindness; quieting of extreme emotions.
- Sapiental: Experience that leads to wisdom, enhances capacity for intuitive knowledge.
MINDFULNESS HANDOUT 8
(Mindfulness Worksheet 6)

Practicing Loving Kindness to Increase
Love and Compassion

WHAT IS LOVING KINDNESS?
Loving kindness is a mindfulness practice designed to increase love and compassion first for ourselves and then for our loved ones, for friends, for those we are angry with, for difficult people, for enemies, and then for all beings.
Loving kindness can protect us from developing and holding on to judgmentalness, ill will, and hostile feelings toward ourselves and others.

PRACTICING LOVING KINDNESS
Practicing loving kindness is like saying a prayer for yourself or someone else. As when you are asking or praying for something for yourself or others, you actively send loving and kind wishes, and recite in your mind words and phrases that express good will toward yourself and others.

LOVING KINDNESS INSTRUCTIONS
1. Choose a person to send loving kindness toward. Do not select a person you do not want to relate to with kindness and compassion. Start with yourself, or, if this is too difficult, with a person you already love.
2. Sitting, standing, or lying down, begin by breathing slowly and deeply. Opening the palms of your hands, gently bring the person to mind.
3. Radiate loving kindness by reciting a set of warm wishes, such as “May I be happy,” “May I be at peace,” “May I be healthy,” “May I be safe,” or another set of positive wishes of your own. Repeat the script slowly, and focus on the meaning of each word as you say it in your mind. (If you have distracting thoughts, just notice them as they come and go and gently bring your mind back to your script.) Continue until you feel yourself immersed in loving kindness.
4. Gradually work yourself up through loved ones, friends, those you are angry with, difficult people, enemies, and finally all beings. For example, use a script such as “May John be happy,” “May John be at peace,” and so on (or “John, may you be happy,” “May you be at peace,” and so on), as you concentrate on radiating loving kindness to John.
5. Practice each day, starting with yourself and then moving to others.

Skillful Means:
Balancing Doing Mind and Being Mind

Doing Mind Is:
- Discriminating Mind
- Ambitious Mind
- Goal-Oriented

When in doing mind, you view your thoughts as facts about the world. You are focused on problem solving and achieving goals.

Being Mind Is:
- Curious Mind
- Nothing-to-Do Mind
- Present-Oriented

Wise Mind Is:
- A balance of doing and being
- The middle path

When in Wise Mind, you:
Use skillful means.

Let go of having to achieve goals—and throw your entire self into working toward these same goals.

Enhance awareness while engaging in activities.

Note. The terms “doing mind,” “being mind,” and “nothing-to-do mind” were first used by Jon Kabat-Zinn in Full Catastrophe Living (1990, 2013).

Ideas for Practicing Balancing Doing Mind and Being Mind

The mindfulness skills require a lot of practice. The practice ideas below are to help you act skillfully in everyday life, bringing together doing activities of everyday life with being mind.

1. Wise Mind reading. To increase your desire for mindfulness, find readings or quotations that have the effect of making you actually want to practice mindfulness in your everyday life. Put these quotations at strategic spots in your life (e.g., near the coffee maker), and then while you are waiting for other things, read the inspirational messages.

2. Wise Mind reminders. Set an alarm at home, at work, or (if possible) on your cell phone or watch to go off randomly or at set times. Use the alarm as a reminder to be mindful of your current activities. (See www.mindfullnessdc.org/bell/index.html or a similar Internet site for a free mindfulness clock to download onto your computer.) Set up automatic text messages or Twitter messages to remind yourself. Write out mindfulness quotations that you like, and tape them in strategic places where you will see them as reminders to practice mindfulness.

3. Wise Mind in the routine of daily life. Choose one routine activity in your daily life (such as brushing your teeth, getting dressed, making coffee or tea, working on a task). Make a deliberate effort to bring moment-to-moment awareness to that activity.

4. “Just this one moment” Wise Mind. When you begin to feel overwhelmed or frazzled, say, “Just this one moment, just this one task,” to remind yourself that your only requirement at the moment is to do one thing in the moment—wash one dish, take one step, move one set of muscles. In this moment, let the next moment go until you get there.

5. Wise Mind awareness of events. Notice events in your everyday life (both pleasant and unpleasant), even if they are only very small (such as warm water on your hands when washing, the taste of something you eat, the feel of wind on your face, the fact that your car is running out of gas or that you are tired).

6. Wise Mind awareness of what needs to be done. When relaxing after a hard day’s work or at a break during the day, stay aware of what needs to be done and focus on doing what is needed.

7. Wise Mind willingness. Practice willingness to do what is needed when you are asked, or when you see that something needs to be done. Do what is needed with a balance of being and doing, focusing the mind, immersing yourself in the task.

8. Three-minute WISE MIND: Slowing down “doing mind” in your everyday life

   - Bring yourself into the present moment by adopting a “wide-awake” posture, and then, in Wise Mind, ask, “What is my experience right now? What thoughts and images are going through my mind?” Notice them as mental events, as neural firing in your brain. Next ask, “What are my feelings and sensations in my body?” Notice these as they come into your awareness. Then say, “OK, this is how it is right now.”

   - Settle into Wise Mind and focus your entire attention on your breath as it goes in and as it goes out, one breath after another. Gather yourself all together, and focus on the movements of your chest and abdomen, the rise and fall of your breath, moment by moment, breath by breath as best you can. Let your breath become an anchor to bring you into the present moment.

   - Once you have gathered yourself to some extent, allow your awareness to expand. As well as being aware of the breath, include also a sense of the body as a whole, your posture, your facial expression, your hands. Follow the breath as if your whole body is breathing. When you are ready, step back into your activities, acting from Wise Mind of your whole body in the present moment.

Walking the Middle Path:
Finding the Synthesis between Opposites

Reasonable mind ——— Emotion mind

Both regulate actions and make decisions based on reason,
And take into account values and experience even strong emotions as they come and go.

Doing mind ——— Nothing-to-do mind

Both do what is needed in the moment (including reviewing the past or planning for the future),
And experience fully the uniqueness of each moment in the moment.

Intense desire for change of the moment ——— Radical acceptance of the moment

Both allow yourself to have an intense desire to have something else than what is now,
And be willing to radically accept what you have in your life in the present moment.

Self-denial ——— Self-indulgence

Both practice moderation,
And satisfy the senses.

Interpersonal Effectiveness Handout 2

Factors in the Way of Interpersonal Effectiveness

- You don't have the interpersonal skills you need
- You don't know what you want
  - You have the skills, but can't decide what you really want from the other person.
  - You can't figure out how to balance your needs versus the other person's needs:
    - Asking for too much versus not asking for anything.
    - Saying no to everything versus giving in to everything.
- Your emotions are getting in the way
  - You have the skills, but emotions (anger, pride, contempt, fear, shame, guilt) control what you do.
- You forget your long-term goals for short-term goals
  - You put your immediate urges and wants ahead of your long-term goals. The future vanishes from your mind.
- Other people are getting in your way
  - You have the skills but other people get in the way.
  - Other people are more powerful than you.
  - Other people may be threatened or may not like you if you get what you want.
  - Other people may not do what you want unless you sacrifice your self-respect, at least a little.
- Your thoughts and beliefs are getting in the way
  - Worries about negative consequences if you ask for what you want or say no to someone's request get in the way of acting effectively.
  - Beliefs that you don't deserve what you want stop you in your tracks.
  - Beliefs that others don't deserve what they want make you ineffective.
Myths in the Way of Interpersonal Effectiveness

Myths in the Way of Objectives Effectiveness

1. I don’t deserve to get what I want or need.
2. If I make a request, this will show that I am a very weak person.
3. I have to know whether a person is going to say yes before I make a request.
4. If I ask for something or say no, I can’t stand it if someone gets upset with me.
5. If they say no, it will kill me.
6. Making requests is a really pushy (bad, self-centered, selfish, etc.) thing to do.
7. Saying no to a request is always a selfish thing to do.
8. I should be willing to sacrifice my own needs for others.
9. I must be really inadequate if I can’t fix this myself.
10. Obviously, the problem is just in my head. If I would just think differently I wouldn’t have to bother everybody else.
11. If I don’t have what I want or need, it doesn’t make any difference; I don’t care really.
12. Skillfulness is a sign of weakness.

Myths in the Way of Relationship and Self-Respect Effectiveness

13. I shouldn’t have to ask (say no); they should know what I want (and do it).
14. They should have known that their behavior would hurt my feelings; I shouldn’t have to tell them.
15. I shouldn’t have to negotiate or work at getting what I want.
16. Other people should be willing to do more for my needs.
17. Other people should like, approve of, and support me.
18. They don’t deserve my being skillful or treating them well.
19. Getting what I want when I want it is most important.
20. I shouldn’t be fair, kind, courteous, or respectful if others are not so toward me.
21. Revenge will feel so good; it will be worth any negative consequences.
22. Only wimps have values.
23. Everybody lies.
24. Getting what I want is more important than how I get it; the ends really do justify the means.

Handouts for Obtaining Objectives Skillfully
Overview: Obtaining Objectives Skillfully

CLARIFYING PRIORITIES
How important is:
Getting what you want/obtaining your goal?
Keeping the relationship?
Maintaining your self-respect?

OBJECTIVES EFFECTIVENESS: DEAR MAN
Be effective in asserting your rights and wishes.

RELATIONSHIP EFFECTIVENESS: GIVE
Act in such a way that you maintain positive relationships and that others feel good about themselves and about you.

SELF-RESPECT EFFECTIVENESS: FAST
Act in such a way that you keep your self-respect.

FACTORS TO CONSIDER
Decide how firm or intense you want to be in asking for something or saying no.
Clarifying Goals in Interpersonal Situations

OBJECTIVES EFFECTIVENESS: Getting What You Want from Another Person
- Obtaining your legitimate rights.
- Getting another person to do something you want that person to do.
- Saying no to an unwanted or unreasonable request.
- Resolving an interpersonal conflict.
- Getting your opinion or point of view taken seriously.

Questions
1. What specific results or changes do I want from this interaction?
2. What do I have to do to get the results? What will work?

RELATIONSHIP EFFECTIVENESS: Keeping and Improving the Relationship
- Acting in such a way that the other person keeps liking and respecting you.
- Balancing immediate goals with the good of the long-term relationship.
- Maintaining relationships that matter to you.

Questions
1. How do I want the other person to feel about me after the interaction is over (whether or not I get the results or changes I want)?
2. What do I have to do to get (or keep) this relationship?

SELF-RESPECT EFFECTIVENESS: Keeping or Improving Self-Respect
- Respecting your own values and beliefs.
- Acting in a way that makes you feel moral.
- Acting in a way that makes you feel capable and effective.

Questions
1. How do I want to feel about myself after the interaction is over (whether or not I get the results or changes I want)?
2. What do I have to do to feel that way about myself? What will work?
Guidelines for Objectives Effectiveness: Getting What You Want (DEAR MAN)

A way to remember these skills is to remember the term DEAR MAN:

- Describe
- Express
- Assert
- Reinforce
- (Stay) Mindful
- Appear Confident
- Negotiate

Describe

Describe the current SITUATION (if necessary). Stick to the facts. Tell the person exactly what you are reacting to.

“You told me you would be home by dinner but you didn’t get here until 11.”

Express

Express your FEELINGS and OPINIONS about the situation. Don’t assume that the other person knows how you feel.

“When you come home so late, I start worrying about you.”

Use phrases such as “I want” instead of “You should,” “I don’t want” instead of “You shouldn’t.”

Assert

Assert yourself by ASKING for what you want or SAYING NO clearly. Do not assume that others will figure out what you want. Remember that others cannot read your mind.

“I would really like it if you would call me when you are going to be late.”

Reinforce

Reinforce (reward) the person ahead of time (so to speak) by explaining positive effects of getting what you want or need. If necessary, also clarify the negative consequences of not getting what you want or need.

“I would be so relieved, and a lot easier to live with, if you do that.”

Remember also to reward desired behavior after the fact.

Mindful

Keep your focus ON YOUR GOALS.
Maintain your position. Don't be distracted. Don't get off the topic.

“Broken record”: Keep asking, saying no, or expressing your opinion over and over.
Just keep replaying the same thing again and again.

Ignore attacks: If another person attacks, threatens, or tries to change the subject, ignore the threats, comments, or attempts to divert you.
Do not respond to attacks. Ignore distractions.
Just keep making your point.

“I would still like a call.”

Appear confident

Appear EFFECTIVE and competent.
Use a confident voice tone and physical manner;
make good eye contact.

No stammering, whispering, staring at the floor, retreating.
No saying, “I’m not sure,” etc.

Negotiate

Be willing to GIVE TO GET.
Offer and ask for other solutions to the problem.
Reduce your request.
Say no, but offer to do something else or to solve the problem another way.
Focus on what will work.

“How about if you text me when you think you might be late?”

Turn the tables: Turn the problem over to the other person.
Ask for other solutions.

“What do you think we should do? . . . I can’t just stop worrying about you [or I’m not willing to].”

Applying DEAR MAN Skills to a Difficult Current Interaction

To turn around really difficult situations, focus the skills on the other person’s behavior right now. When other people have really good skills themselves, and keep refusing your legitimate requests or pestering you to do something you don’t want to do.

Apply DEAR MAN Skills

1. Describe the current interaction. If the “broken record” and ignoring don’t work, make a statement about what is happening between you and the person now, but without imputing motives.

   Example: “You keep asking me over and over, even though I have already said no several times,” or “It is hard to keep asking you to empty the dishwasher when it is your month to do it.”

   Not: “You obviously don’t want to hear what I am saying,” “You obviously don’t care about me,” “Well, it’s obvious that what I have to say doesn’t matter to you,” “Obviously you think I’m stupid.”

2. Express feelings or opinions about the interaction. For instance, in the middle of an interaction that is not going well, you can express your feelings of discomfort in the situation.

   Example: “I am sorry I cannot do what you want, but I’m finding it hard to keep discussing it,” or “It’s becoming very uncomfortable for me to keep talking about this, since I can’t help it. I am starting to feel angry about it,” or “I’m not sure you think this is important for you to do.”

   Not: “I hate you!”, “Every time we talk about this, you get defensive,” “Stop patronizing me!”

3. Assert wishes in the situation. When another person is pestering you, you can ask him or her to stop it. When a person is refusing a request, you can suggest that you put the conversation off until another time. Give the other person a chance to think about it.

   Example: “Please don’t ask me again. My answer won’t change,” or “OK, let’s stop discussing this now and pick it up again sometime tomorrow,” or “Let’s cool down for a while and then get together to figure out a solution.”

   Not: “Would you shut up?” “You should do this!”, “You should really calm down and do what’s right here.”

4. Reinforce. When you are saying no to someone who keeps asking, or when someone won’t take your opinion seriously, suggest ending the conversation, since you aren’t going to change your mind anyway. When trying to get someone to do something for you, you can suggest that you will come up with a better offer later.

   Example: “Let’s stop talking about this now. I’m not going to change my mind, and I think this is just going to get frustrating for both of us,” or “OK, I can see you don’t want to do this, so let’s see if we can come up with something that will make you more willing to do it.”

   Not: “If you don’t do this for me, I’ll never do anything for you ever again,” “If you keep asking me, I’ll get a restraining order against you,” “Gosh, you must be a terrible person for not doing this/for asking me to do this.”
Guidelines for Relationship Effectiveness: Keeping the Relationship (GIVE)

A way to remember these skills is to remember the word GIVE (DEAR MAN, GIVE):

- (Be) Gentle
  - BE NICE and respectful.
  - No attacks: No verbal or physical attacks. No hitting, clenching fists. No harassment of any kind. Express anger directly with words.
  - No threats: If you have to describe painful consequences for not getting what you want, describe them calmly and without exaggerating.
  - No “manipulative” statements, no hidden threats. No “I’ll kill myself if you . . .” Tolerate a “no.” Stay in the discussion even if it gets painful. Exit gracefully.
  - No judging: No moralizing. No “If you were a good person, you would . . .” No “You should . . .” or “You shouldn’t . . .” Abandon blame.
  - No sneering: No smirking, eye rolling, sucking teeth. No cutting off or walking away. No saying, “That’s stupid, don’t be sad,” “I don’t care what you say.”

- (Act) Interested
  - LISTEN and APPEAR INTERESTED in the other person.
  - Listen to the other person’s point of view.
  - Face the person; maintain eye contact; lean toward the person rather than away. Don’t interrupt or talk over the person.
  - Be sensitive to the person’s wish to have the discussion at a later time. Be patient.

- (Use an) Easy manner
  - With WORDS AND ACTIONS, show that you understand the other person’s feelings and thoughts about the situation. See the world from the other person’s point of view, and then say or act on what you see.
  - “I realize this is hard for you, and . . .”, “I see that you are busy, and . . .”
  - Go to a private place when the person is uncomfortable talking in a public place.

- (Act) Interested
  - Listen to the other person’s point of view.
  - Face the person; maintain eye contact; lean toward the person rather than away. Don’t interrupt or talk over the person.
  - Be sensitive to the person’s wish to have the discussion at a later time. Be patient.

- (Use an) Easy manner
  - Use a little humor.
  - SMILE. Ease the person along. Be light-hearted. Sweet-talk.
  - Use a “soft sell” over a “hard sell.” Be “political.”
  - Leave your attitude at the door.

Other ideas:
Expanding the V in GIVE: Levels of Validation

1. Pay Attention: Look interested in the other person instead of bored (no multitasking).

2. Reflect Back: Say back what you heard the other person say or do, to be sure you understand exactly what the person is saying. No judgmental language or tone of voice!

3. “Read Minds”: Be sensitive to what is not being said by the other person. Pay attention to facial expressions, body language, what is happening, and what you know about the person already. Show you understand in words or by your actions. Check it out and make sure you are right. Let go if you are not.

4. Understand: Look for how what the other person is feeling, thinking, or doing makes sense, based on the person's past experiences, present situation, and/or current state of mind or physical condition (i.e., the causes).

5. Acknowledge the Valid: Look for how the person's feelings, thinking, or actions are valid responses because they fit current facts, or are understandable because they are a logical response to current facts.

6. Show Equality: Be yourself! Don’t “one-up” or “one-down” the other person. Treat the other as an equal, not as fragile or incompetent.
Guidelines for Self-Respect Effectiveness: Keeping Respect for Yourself (FAST)

A way to remember these skills is to remember the word FAST (DEAR MAN, GIVE FAST).

- (Be) Fair
- (No) Apologies
  - Stick to Values
- (Be) Truthful

Fair

Be fair to YOURSELF and to the OTHER person. Remember to VALIDATE YOUR OWN feelings and wishes, as well as the other person's.

Don't overapologize.
No apologizing for being alive or for making a request at all.
No apologies for having an opinion, for disagreeing.
No LOOKING ASHAMED, with eyes and head down or body slumped.
No invalidating the valid.

Stick to YOUR OWN values.
Don't sell out your values or integrity for reasons that aren't VERY important.
Be clear on what you believe is the moral or valued way of thinking and acting, and “stick to your guns.”

Truthful

Don’t lie. Don't act helpless when you are not.
Don't exaggerate or make up excuses.

Evaluating Options for Whether or How Intensely to Ask for Something or Say No

Before asking for something or saying no to a request, you have to decide how intensely you want to hold your ground.

Options range from very low intensity, where you are very flexible and accept the situation as it is, to very high intensity, where you try every skill you know to change the situation and get what you want.

High intensity (stay firm)

FACTORS TO CONSIDER

When deciding how firm or intense you want to be in asking or saying no, think about:

1. The other person’s or your own capability.
2. Your priorities.
3. The effect of your actions on your self-respect.
4. Your or the other’s moral and legal rights in the situation.
5. Your authority over the person (or his or hers over you).
6. The type of relationship you have with the person.
8. The degree of give and take in your relationship.
9. Whether you have done your homework to prepare.
10. The timing of your request or refusal.

1. CAPABILITY:  • Is the person able to give you what you want? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
                • Do you have what the person wants? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

2. PRIORITIES:    • Are your GOALS very important? Increase intensity.
                   • Is your RELATIONSHIP shaky? Consider reducing intensity.
                   • Is your SELF-RESPECT on the line? Intensity should fit your values.

3. SELF-RESPECT:  • Do you usually do things for yourself? Are you careful to avoid acting helpless when you are not? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
                   • Will saying no make you feel bad about yourself, even when you are thinking about it wisely? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

4. RIGHTS:        • Is the person required by law or moral code to give you what you want? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
                   • Are you required to give the person what he or she is asking for? Would saying no violate the other person’s rights? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

5. AUTHORITY:     • Are you responsible for directing the person or telling the person what to do? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
                   • Does the person have authority over you (e.g., your boss, your teacher)? And is what the person is asking within his or her authority? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

6. RELATIONSHIP:
   - Is what you want appropriate to the current relationship? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
   - Is what the person is asking for appropriate to your current relationship? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

7. LONG-TERM VERSUS SHORT-TERM GOALS:
   - Will not asking for what you want keep the peace now but create problems in the long run? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
   - Is giving in to keep the peace right now more important than the long-term welfare of the relationship? Will you eventually regret or resent saying no? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

8. GIVE AND TAKE:
   - What have you done for the person? Are you giving at least as much as you ask for? Are you willing to give if the person says yes? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
   - Do you owe this person a favor? Does he or she do a lot for you? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

9. HOMEWORK:
   - Have you done your homework? Do you know all the facts you need to know to support your request? Are you clear about what you want? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
   - Is the other person’s request clear? Do you know what you are agreeing to? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

10. TIMING:
    - Is this a good time to ask? Is the person “in the mood” for listening and paying attention to you? Are you catching the person when he or she is likely to say yes to your request? If YES, raise the intensity of ASKING.
    - Is this a bad time to say no? Should you hold off answering for a while? If NO, raise the intensity of NO.

Troubleshooting: When What You Are Doing Isn’t Working

1. Do I have the skills I need? Check out the instructions.
   Review what has already been tried.
   - Do I know how to be skillful in getting what I want?
   - Do I know how to say what I want to say?
   - Do I follow the skill instructions to the letter?

2. Do I know what I really want in this interaction?
   Ask:
   - Am I undecided about what I really want in this interaction?
   - Am I unsure of my priorities?
   - Am I having trouble balancing:
     - Asking for too much versus too little?
     - Saying no to everything versus saying yes to everything?
   - Is fear or shame getting in the way of knowing what I really want?

3. Are short-term goals getting in the way of long-term goals?
   Ask:
   - Is “NOW, NOW, NOW” winning out over getting what I really want in the future?
   - Is emotion mind controlling what I say and do instead of WISE MIND?

4. Are my emotions getting in the way of using my skills?

Ask:
- Do I get too upset to use my skills?
- Are my emotions so HIGH that I am over my skills breakdown point?

5. Are worries, assumptions, and myths getting in my way?

Ask:
- Are THOUGHTS about bad consequences blocking my action?
  “They won’t like me,” “She will think I am stupid.”
- Are THOUGHTS about not deserving things getting in my way?
  “I am such a bad person I don’t deserve this.”
- Am I calling myself NAMES that stop me from doing anything?
  “I won’t do it right,” “I’ll probably fall apart,” “I’m so stupid.”
- Do I believe MYTHS about interpersonal effectiveness?
  “If I make a request, this will show that I am a weak person,”
  “Only wimps have values.”

6. Is the environment more powerful than my skills?

Ask:
- Are the people who have what I want or need more powerful than I am?
- Are other people more in control of the situation than I am?
- Will others be threatened if I get what I want?
- Do others have reasons for not liking me if I get what I want?

Finding and Getting People to Like You

REMEMBER: ALL HUMAN BEINGS ARE LOVABLE. But finding friends may take effort on your part.

LOOK FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE CLOSE BY YOU. Familiarity often leads to liking and sometimes love.
  To find people you might like and who might like you, it is important to make sure that you are frequently around and visible to a group of people. Many people find friends who are classmates or members of groups they join, or who work at or go to the same places.

LOOK FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE SIMILAR TO YOU.
  We often make friends with people who share our interests and attitudes.
  Though always agreeing with someone will not make you more attractive to them, a lot of people are attracted to those who share the same important interests and attitudes, such as politics, lifestyle, morals.

WORK ON YOUR CONVERSATION SKILLS.
  Ask and respond to questions; respond with a little more info than requested.
  Make small talk; don’t underestimate the value of chit-chat.
  Self-disclose skillfully; keep your self-disclosure close to that of the other person.
  Don’t interrupt; don’t start talking just fractionally before or after someone else.
  Learn things to talk about: Watch others; read; increase your activities and experiences.

EXPRESS LIKING (SELECTIVELY).
  We often like the people we think like us.
  Express genuine liking for the other person. But don’t try to suck up to the other person or grovel. Find things to compliment that are not super-obvious. Don’t praise too much too often, and never use compliments to obtain favors.

JOIN AN ONGOING GROUP CONVERSATION.

If we wait for people to approach us, we may never have friends.

Sometimes we must make the first move in finding friends. This often requires us to know how to tell if a group is open or closed, and then, when it is open, how to approach and join in the ongoing group.

In open groups new members are welcome.

In closed groups new members may not be welcome.

Open Groups
- Everyone is standing somewhat apart.
- Members occasionally glance around the room.
- There are gaps in the conversation.
- Members are talking about a topic of general interest.

Closed Groups
- Everyone is standing close together.
- Members attend exclusively to each other.
- There is a very animated conversation with few gaps.
- Members seem to be pairing off.

<tr>
<th>Ways of Joining an Open Group</th>
<th>Potential Outcomes</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Move gradually closer to the group.</td>
<td>It may not be clear from the slowness of your approach that you want to join them; it might even look as though you were creeping up and trying to eavesdrop!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Offer to refill members’ glasses/serve them food.</td>
<td>That could be overdoing things a bit. What would you do if they refused more food/drinks? Would it be clear enough that you wanted to join the group?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stand beside them and chip in on their conversation.</td>
<td>That might seem rude. They haven’t invited you to join them, and anyway, what exactly are you going to say when you chip in?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Go up and introduce yourself.</td>
<td>Isn’t that overly formal? Having introduced yourself, then what do you say? Will they introduce themselves to you? Wouldn’t you interrupt the conversation?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wait for a break in the conversation, stand beside a friendly-looking member of the group and say something like “Mind if I join you?”</td>
<td>This makes your intention clear and doesn’t seem rude or interrupt the conversation; group members can then choose whether to introduce themselves or not.</td>

Mindfulness of Others

FRIENDSHIPS LAST LONGER WHEN WE ARE MINDFUL.

OBSERVE

- Pay attention with interest and curiosity to others around you.
- Stop multitasking; focus on the people you are with.
- Stay in the present rather than planning what to say next.
- Let go of a focus on self, and focus on others around you.
- Be open to new information about others.
- Notice judgmental thoughts about others, and let them go.
- Give up clinging to always being right.

DESCRIBE

- Replace judgmental words with descriptive words.
- Avoid assuming or interpreting what other people think about you without checking the facts. (Remember, no one has ever observed another person’s thoughts, motives, intentions, feelings, emotions, desires, or experiences.)
- Avoid questioning other people’s motives (unless you have very good reasons to do so).
- Give others the benefit of the doubt.

PARTICIPATE

- Throw yourself into interactions with others.
- Go with the flow, rather than trying to control the flow.
- Become one with group activities and conversations.
Identifying Mindfulness of Others

For each A and B pair, check the more effective response.

1A. Multi-task and expect the other person to understand.
1B. Give your complete attention to the person you are with.

6A. Be open to people’s changing their minds about things, as well as their beliefs or feelings.
6B. Assume that when people change, they are not trustworthy.

2A. Figure that if you already know someone, you don’t really have to pay such close attention to them any more.
2B. Recognize that closeness is built by attending to and learning more and more about people you care about.

7A. Evaluate other people’s behaviors and thoughts, and tell them that they are wrong or that they should be different when you feel sure you are right.
7B. If you do not approve of or agree with what another person is doing or thinking, try to understand how it would make sense if you knew the causes.

3A. “My feelings are really hurt by what you did, and the thought went through my mind that you hate me. I know that you don’t really, but did you feel that way at the time?”
3B. “I know you hate me. There is no other reason for what you did to me. Don’t tell me differently, either.”

8A. “You should stop doing that.”
8B. “I wish you would stop doing that.”

9A. “You are lazy and have given up.”
9B. “I worry that you have given up.”

10A. “I don’t think that is correct.”
10B. “How could you possibly think that?”

4A. In social situations, throw yourself into interactions.
4B. Stay reserved and watch social interactions so you don’t make mistakes.

11A. Stay in control so that relationships turn out the way you want.
11B. Go with the flow much of the time when in social interactions with groups of friends.

5A. Find people with your values.
5B. Do little immoral things so as not to be a drag on friendships.

12A. Hold back in a conversation until you are sure you like the person.
12B. Throw yourself into a conversation until you are sure you don’t like it.
Ending Relationships

A destructive relationship has the quality of destroying or completely spoiling either the quality of the relationship or aspects of yourself—such as your physical body and safety, your self-esteem or sense of integrity, your happiness or peace of mind, or your caring for the other person.

An interfering relationship is one that blocks or makes difficult your pursuing goals that are important to you; your ability to enjoy life and do things you like doing; your relationships with other persons; or the welfare of others that you love.

- Decide to end relationships in WISE MIND, NEVER in emotion mind.
- If the relationship is IMPORTANT and NOT destructive, and there is reason to hope it can be improved, try PROBLEM SOLVING to repair a difficult relationship.
- COPE AHEAD to troubleshoot and practice ending the relationship ahead of time.
- Be direct: Use the DEAR MAN GIVE FAST interpersonal effectiveness skills.
- Practice OPPOSITE ACTION FOR LOVE when you find you love the wrong person.
- PRACTICE SAFETY FIRST! Before leaving a highly abusive or life-threatening relationship, call a local domestic violence hotline or the toll-free National Domestic Violence Hotline (1-800-799-7233) for help with safety planning and a referral to a qualified professional. See also the International Directory of Domestic Violence Agencies (www.hotpeachpages.net).
Identifying How to End Relationships

For each A and B pair, check the more effective response.

1A. If a relationship is threatening your integrity or physical well-being, it is probably your fault, and you should see a therapist.
1B. A relationship threatening your integrity or physical well-being is destructive, and you should consider getting out of it.

In the middle of an argument, you are so mad at the other person you don’t want to have anything to do with this person any more.

5A. You should end the relationship right then! You may forget all about how enraging the person is if you wait.
5B. You should get out of emotion mind and into Wise Mind, and evaluate whether to stay or leave the relationship.

2A. Relationships should be easy. If it’s hard to have a relationship with someone, it’s probably not worth it, and you should end it.
2B. Most relationships need problem solving to work.

6A. If ending a destructive relationship will be difficult, it’s most effective to stay together.
6B. If ending a destructive relationship will be difficult, it’s most effective to cope ahead of time.

3A. If you are in love with someone who does not love you back, practice DEAR MAN skills to get the person to love you.
3B. If you are in love with someone who does not love you back, practice opposite action to love.

7A. In an abusive relationship, if the person hits you, you should use your interpersonal skills to tell the person you are leaving the relationship.
7B. In an abusive relationship, you should seek professional assistance to leave the relationship.

4A. To decide whether to end a relationship, do PROS and CONS.
4B. To decide whether to end a relationship, use GIVE skills.

8A. If you feel consistently invalidated in a relationship, it is probably your fault.
8B. If you are consistently invalidated, the relationship is likely destructive.

Walking the Middle Path
Balancing Acceptance and Change

DIALECTICS
Balancing opposites while entering the paradox of “yes” and “no,” “true” and “not true,” at the very same time.

VALIDATION
Including the valid and understandable in ourselves and others.

RECOVERING FROM INVALIDATION
From a nondefensive position, find the valid, acknowledge the invalid, and radically accept yourself.

STRATEGIES FOR CHANGING BEHAVIOR
Use behavioral principles to increase desired behaviors and decrease undesired behaviors.

Dialectics

DIALECTICS REMINDS US THAT

1. The universe is filled with opposing sides/opposing forces.

   There is always more than one way to see a situation, and more than one way to solve a problem.

   Two things that seem like opposites can both be true.

2. Everything and every person is connected in some way.

   The waves and the ocean are one.

   The slightest move of the butterfly affects the furthest star.

3. Change is the only constant.

   Meaning and truth evolve over time.

   Each moment is new; reality itself changes with each moment.

4. Change is transactional.

   What we do influences our environment and other people in it.

   The environment and other people influence us.
INTERPERSONAL EFFECTIVENESS HANDOUT 16

(Interpersonal Effectiveness Worksheets 11, 11a, 11b)

How to Think and Act Dialectically

1. There is always more than one side to anything that exists. Look for both sides.
   - Ask Wise Mind: What am I missing? Where is the kernel of truth in the other side?
   - Let go of extremes: Change “either-or” to “both-and,” “always” or “never” to “sometimes.”
   - Balance opposites: Validate both sides when you disagree, accept reality, and work to change.
   - Make lemonade out of lemons.
   - Embrace confusion: Enter the paradox of yes and no, or true and not true.
   - Play devil’s advocate: Argue each side of your own position with equal passion.
   - Use metaphors and storytelling to unstick and free the mind.
   - Other ways to see all sides of a situation:

2. Be aware that you are connected.
   - Treat others as you want them to treat you.
   - Look for similarities among people instead of differences.
   - Notice the physical connections among all things.
   - Other ways to stay aware of connections:

3. Embrace change.
   - Throw yourself into change: Allow it. Embrace it.
   - Practice radical acceptance of change when rules, circumstances, people, and relationships change in ways you don’t like.
   - Practice getting used to change: Make small changes to practice this (e.g., purposely change where you sit, who you talk with, what route you take when going to a familiar place).
   - Other ways to embrace change:

4. Change is transactional: Remember that you affect your environment and your environment affects you.
   - Pay attention to your effect on others and how they affect you.
   - Practice letting go of blame by looking for how your own and others’ behaviors are caused by many interactions over time.
   - Remind yourself that all things, including all behaviors, are caused.
   - Other ways to see transactions:

Examples of Opposite Sides That Can Both Be True

1. You can want to change and be doing the best you can, AND still need to do better, try harder, and be more motivated to change.

2. You are tough AND you are gentle.

3. You can be independent AND also want help. (You can allow somebody else to be independent AND also give them help.)

4. You can want to be alone AND also want to be connected to others.

5. You can share some things with others AND also keep some things private.

6. You can be by yourself AND still be connected to others.

7. You can be with others AND be lonely.

8. You can be a misfit in one group AND fit in perfectly in another group. (A tulip in a rose garden can also be a tulip in a tulip garden.)

9. You can accept yourself the way you are AND still want to change. (You can accept others as they are AND still want them to change.)

10. At times you need to both control AND tolerate your emotions.

11. You may have a valid reason for believing what you believe, AND you may still be wrong or incorrect.

12. Someone may have valid reasons for wanting something from you, AND you may have valid reasons for saying no.

13. The day can be sunny, AND it can rain.

14. You can be mad at somebody AND also love and respect the person.

15. (You can be mad at yourself AND also love and respect yourself.)

16. You can have a disagreement with somebody AND also be friends.

17. You can disagree with the rules AND also follow the rules.

18. You can understand why somebody is feeling or behaving in a certain way, AND also disagree with his or her behavior and ask that it be changed.

19. Others: __________________________

Important Opposites to Balance

1. Accepting reality AND working to change it.

2. Validating yourself and others AND acknowledging errors.

3. Working AND resting.

4. Doing things you need to do AND doing things you want to do.

5. Working on improving yourself AND accepting yourself exactly as you are.

7. Emotion regulation AND emotion acceptance.

8. Mastering something on your own AND asking for help.

10. Openness AND privacy.

11. Trust AND suspicion.

12. Watching and observing AND participating.

13. Taking from others AND giving to others.

14. Focusing on yourself AND focusing on others.

15. Others: ________________________________

Identifying Dialectics

For each group, check the most dialectical response.

| 1A. | Pay attention to your effect on others. |
| 1B. | Assume that others’ reactions to you are unrelated to your treatment of them. |
| 5A. | Examine a difficult relationship by looking at how the interactions over time between you and the other person may be problematic. |
| 5B. | Assume that difficulties in a relationship are caused completely by you or by the other person. |

| Saying: |
| 2A. | “I know I am right about this.” |
| 2B. | “I can see your point of view, even though I do not agree with it.” |
| 2C. | “The way you are thinking doesn’t make any sense.” |

| Saying: |
| 6A. | “It is hopeless. I cannot do it.” |
| 6B. | “This is a breeze. I’ve got no problems.” |
| 6C. | “This is really hard for me, and I am going to keep trying.” |

| Saying: |
| 3A. | “Everyone always treats me unfairly.” |
| 3B. | “I believe the coach should reconsider his decision to cut me from the team.” |
| 3C. | “Coaches know best who to keep on teams and who to cut.” |

| Saying: |
| 7A. | When you disagree with someone, be sure and be very clear about your point of view. |
| 7B. | When you disagree with someone, try and see their point of view. |

| 4A. | Judge friends as disloyal and uncaring if they start changing in ways you don’t like. |
| 4B. | Accept that interests change. |
| 8A. | Demand that relationships be stable without changing. |
| 8B. | Embrace change and see it as inevitable. |

INTERPERSONAL EFFECTIVENESS HANDOUT 17
(Interpersonal Effectiveness Worksheet 12)

Validation

VALIDATION MEANS:

• Finding the kernel of truth in another person's perspective or situation; verifying the facts of a situation.
• Acknowledging that a person's emotions, thoughts, and behaviors have causes and are therefore understandable.
• Not necessarily agreeing with the other person.
• Not validating what is actually invalid.

WHY VALIDATE?

• It improves our relationships by showing we are listening and understand.
• It improves interpersonal effectiveness by reducing:
  1. Pressure to prove who is right
  2. Negative reactivity
  3. Anger
• It makes problem solving, closeness, and support possible.
• Invalidation hurts.

IMPORTANT THINGS TO VALIDATE

• The valid (and only the valid).
• The facts of a situation.
• A person's experiences, feelings/emotions, beliefs, opinions, or thoughts about something.
• Suffering and difficulties.

REMEMBER:

• Every invalid response makes sense in some way.
• Validation is not necessarily agreeing.
• Validation doesn't mean you like it.
• Only validate the valid!

A “How To” Guide to Validation

1. Pay Attention:
   Look interested, listen, and observe. No multitasking. Make eye contact. Stay focused. Nod occasionally. Respond with your face (e.g., smile at happy statements; look concerned when hearing something painful).

2. Reflect Back:
   Say back what you heard or observed to be sure you actually understand what the person is saying. No judgmental language or voice tone!
   Try to really “get” what the person feels or thinks. Have an open mind. (No disagreeing, criticizing, or trying to change the person’s mind or goals.) Use a voice tone that allows the other person to correct you . . . and check the facts!
   Example: “So you are mad at me because you think I lied just to get back at you. Did I get it right?”

3. “Read Minds”:
   Be sensitive to what is not being said by the other person. Pay attention to facial expressions, body language, what is happening, and what you know about the person already. Show that you understand in words or by your actions. Be open to correction.
   Example: When you are asking a friend for a ride at the end of a long day and the person slumps down, say, “You look really tired. Let me look for someone else.”

4. Understand:
   Look for how the other person feels, is thinking, or if he or she is making sense, given the person’s history, state of mind or body, or current events (i.e. the causes)—even if you don’t approve of the person’s behavior, or if his or her belief is incorrect. Say “It makes sense that you . . . because . . .”
   Example: If you sent a party invitation to the wrong address, say, “I can see why you thought I might be excluding you on purpose.”

5. Acknowledge the valid:
   Show that you see that the person’s thoughts, feelings, or actions are valid, given current reality and facts. Act as if the person’s behavior is valid.
   Example: If you are criticized for not taking out the garbage on your day, admit that it is your day and take it out. If people present a problem, help them solve it (unless they just want to be heard). If people are hungry, give them food. Acknowledge the effort a person is making.

6. Show Equality:
   Be yourself! Don’t “one-up” or “one-down” the other person. Treat the other as an equal, not as fragile or incompetent.
   Example: Be willing to admit mistakes. If someone introduces him- or herself by first name, introduce yourself by your first name. Ask other people for their opinions. Give up being defensive. Be careful in giving advice or telling someone what to do if you are not asked or required to do so. Even then, remember you could be wrong.

Recovering from Invalidation

NOTICE THAT INVALIDATION CAN BE HELPFUL AND PAINFUL AT THE SAME TIME

Remember:
Invalidation Is Helpful When

1. It corrects important mistakes (your facts are wrong).
2. It stimulates intellectual and personal growth by listening to other views.
3. Other: ____________________________

Invalidation Is Painful When

1. You are being ignored.
2. You are not being repeatedly misunderstood.
3. You are being misread.
4. You are being misinterpreted.
5. Important facts in your life are ignored or denied.
6. You are receiving unequal treatment.
7. You are being disbelieved when being truthful.
8. Your private experiences are trivialized or denied.
9. Other: ____________________________

Be Nondefensive and Check the Facts

- Check ALL the facts to see if your responses are valid or invalid. Check them out with someone you can trust to validate the valid.

- Acknowledge when your responses don’t make sense and are not valid.

- Work to change invalid thinking, comments, or actions. (Also, stop blaming. It rarely helps a situation.)

- Drop judgmental self-statements. (Practice opposite action.)

- Remind yourself that all behavior is caused and that you are doing your best.

- Be compassionate toward yourself. Practice self-soothing.

- Admit that it hurts to be invalidated by others, even if they are right.

- Acknowledge when your reactions make sense and are valid in a situation.

- Remember that being invalidated, even when your response is actually valid, is rarely a complete catastrophe.

- Describe your experiences and actions in a supportive environment.

- Grieve traumatic invalidation and the harm it created.

- Practice radical acceptance of the invalidating person.

Strategies for Decreasing or Stopping Unwanted Behaviors

Extinction = Stopping an ongoing reinforcement of behavior. Extinction leads first to a burst of behavior, and then to a decrease in behavior.

Examples: ____________________________

Satiation = Providing relief or what is wanted before the behavior occurs. Satiation reduces motivation for behavior and thus decreases its frequency.

Examples: ____________________________

Punishment = An aversive consequence that decreases a behavior. Behavior is decreased by consequences the person dislikes or will work to avoid.

Examples: ____________________________

Behavior is decreased by consequences that stop or reduce something positive.

Examples: ____________________________

Behavior is decreased when something the person wants is withheld until harmful effects of problem behaviors are corrected and overcorrected.

Examples: ____________________________

- Be sure that punishment is specific, is time-limited, and fits the "crime."
- Avoid a punitive tone; let the consequence do the work.
- If a natural punishment occurs, don’t undo it. Don’t add arbitrary punishment.

Be sure to reinforce alternative behavior to replace behavior you want stopped.

- Extinction and punishment weaken or suppress behavior, but do not eliminate it.
- Extinction and punishment do not teach new behavior.
- To keep a behavior from resurfacing, reinforce an alternative behavior.
- Punishment works only when the punisher is (or is likely to be) present.
- Punishment leads to avoidance of the person punishing.

Tips for Using Behavior Change Strategies Effectively

Not all consequences are created equal.

“One person’s poison can be another person’s passion.”

Context counts. A reinforcer in one situation can be punishment in another.

Quantity counts. If a reinforcer is too little or too much, it will not work.

Natural consequences work best. Let them do the work when possible.

Ask what consequence the person would work to get (reinforcer) or work to avoid (punisher).

Observe changes in behavior when a consequence is applied.

Behavior learned in one situation may not happen in another.
Identifying Effective Behavior Change Strategies

For each A and B pair, check the more effective response.

1A. When you are trying to increase a behavior, it is most effective to wait for the full desired behavior before reinforcing, so the person does not think that halfway is good enough.

1B. When you are trying to increase a behavior, it is most effective to reinforce small improvement in the right direction, or else the person may not continue to improve.

2A. The most effective punishment is intense anger and swift verbal criticism.

2B. The most effective punishment is to find one that fits the severity of the problem behavior.

3A. It is most effective to reinforce behavior immediately after it occurs.

3B. It is most effective to reward behavior after a delay so that the person does not expect that you will always provide a reward.

4A. It is common that people reward others’ problematic behaviors without even realizing it.

4B. People do not reward others’ problematic behaviors, because that would be stupid.

5A. If a person’s problem behaviors work to get things he or she wants, it is most effective to punish those behaviors to make them stop.

5B. If a person’s problem behaviors work to get things he or she wants, it is most effective to stop reinforcing those behaviors and instead give rewards when the person uses more skillful strategies to get what he or she wants or needs.

6A. When you are punishing, figure that a nonspecific punishment will be a lot more effective, since it can’t be avoided.

6B. Use a specific and time-limited negative consequence to decrease behavior.

7A. If a person’s mean behavior makes you feel hurt, it is most effective to punish the behavior by taking away gifts that you previously gave the person.

7B. If a person’s mean behavior makes you feel hurt, it is most effective to punish the behavior by not doing favors for the person until his or her behavior improves.

8A. After a punished behavior stops, it is most effective to reward an alternative behavior that you want.

8B. After a punished behavior stops, it is most effective to continue the punishment, so that you send a very clear message that the problematic behavior is unacceptable.

Handouts for Understanding and Naming Emotions
Overview:
Understanding and Naming Emotions

WHAT EMOTIONS DO FOR YOU
There are reasons why we have emotions.

We need them!

FACTORS THAT MAKE REGULATING EMOTIONS HARD
Lack of skills, reinforcing consequences, moodiness, rumination/worrying, myths about emotions, and biology can interfere with changing emotions.

A MODEL FOR DESCRIBING EMOTIONS
Emotions are complex responses.

Changing any part of the system can change the entire response.

WAYS TO DESCRIBE EMOTIONS
Learning to observe, describe, and name your emotion can help you regulate your emotions.
EMOTION REGULATION HANDOUT 3

(Emotion Regulation Worksheets 2–2c)

What Emotions Do for You

EMOTIONS MOTIVATE (AND ORGANIZE) US FOR ACTION

- Emotions motivate our behavior. Emotions prepare us for action.
  The action urge of specific emotions is often “hard-wired” in biology.

- Emotions save time in getting us to act in important situations.
  Emotions can be especially important when we don’t have time to think things through.

- Strong emotions help us overcome obstacles—in our minds and in the environment.

EMOTIONS COMMUNICATE TO (AND INFLUENCE) OTHERS

- Facial expressions are hard-wired aspects of emotions.
  Facial expressions communicate faster than words.

- Our body language and voice tone can also be hard-wired.
  Like it or not, they also communicate our emotions to others.

- When it is important to communicate to others, or send them a message, it can be very hard to change our emotions.

- Whether we intend it or not, our communication of emotions influences others.

EMOTIONS COMMUNICATE TO OURSELVES

- Emotional reactions can give us important information about a situation.
  Emotions can be signals or alarms that something is happening.

- Gut feelings can be like intuition—a response to something important about the situation.
  This can be helpful if our emotions get us to check out the facts.

- Caution: Sometimes we treat emotions as if they are facts about the world: The stronger the emotion, the stronger our belief that the emotion is based on fact. (Examples: “If I feel unsure, I am incompetent,” “If I get lonely when left alone, I shouldn’t be left alone,” “If I feel confident about something, it is right,” “If I’m afraid, there must be danger,” “I love him, so he must be OK.”)

- If we assume that our emotions represent facts about the world, we may use them to justify our thoughts or our actions. This can be trouble if our emotions get us to ignore the facts.
What Makes It Hard to Regulate Your Emotions

BIOLOGY
- Biological factors can make emotion regulation harder.

LACK OF SKILL
- You don’t know what to do to regulate your emotions.

REINFORCEMENT OF EMOTIONAL BEHAVIOR
- Your environment reinforces you when you are highly emotional.

MOODINESS
- Your current mood controls what you do instead of your Wise Mind.
- You don’t really want to put in time and effort to regulate your emotions.

EMOTIONAL OVERLOAD
- High emotional arousal causes you to reach a skills breakdown point.
  You can’t follow skills instructions or figure out what to do.

EMOTION MYTHS
- Myths (e.g., mistaken beliefs) about emotions get in the way of your ability to regulate emotions.
- Myths that emotions are bad or weak lead to avoiding emotions.
- Myths that extreme emotions are necessary or are part of who you are keep you from trying to regulate your emotions.

Handouts for Changing Emotional Responses
Overview:
Changing Emotional Responses

CHECK THE FACTS
Check out whether your emotional reactions fit the facts of the situation.
Changing your beliefs and assumptions to fit the facts can help you change your emotional reactions to situations.

OPPOSITE ACTION
When your emotions do not fit the facts, or when acting on your emotions is not effective, acting opposite (all the way) will change your emotional reactions.

PROBLEM SOLVING
When the facts themselves are the problem, solving the problem will reduce the frequency of negative emotions.
Check the Facts

FACTS
Many emotions and actions are set off by our thoughts and interpretations of events, not by the events themselves.

Event → Thoughts → Emotions

Our emotions can also have a big effect on our thoughts about events.

Event → Emotion → Thoughts

Examining our thoughts and checking the facts can help us change our emotions.

HOW TO CHECK THE FACTS
1. Ask: What is the emotion I want to change?
   (See Emotion Regulation Handout 6: Ways of Describing Emotions.)

2. Ask: What is the event prompting my emotion?
   Describe the facts that you observed through your senses.
   Challenge judgments, absolutes, and black-and-white descriptions.
   (See Mindfulness Handout 4: Taking Hold of Your Mind: “What” Skills.)

3. Ask: What are my interpretations, thoughts, and assumptions about the event?
   Think of other possible interpretations.
   Practice looking at all sides of a situation and all points of view.
   Test your interpretations and assumptions to see if they fit the facts.

4. Ask: Am I assuming a threat?
   Label the threat.
   Assess the probability that the threatening event will really occur.
   Think of as many other possible outcomes as you can.

5. Ask: What’s the catastrophe?
   Imagine the catastrophe really occurring.
   Imagine coping well with a catastrophe (through problem solving, coping ahead, or radical acceptance).

6. Ask: Does my emotion and/or its intensity fit the actual facts?
   Check out facts that fit each emotion.
   Ask Wise Mind.
   (See Emotion Regulation Handout 11: Figuring Out Opposite Actions, and Emotion Regulation Handout 13: Reviewing Problem Solving and Opposite Action.)

Intensity and duration of an emotion are justified by:

1. How likely it is that the expected outcomes will occur.
2. How great and/or important the outcomes are.
3. How effective the emotion is in your life now.

Opposite Action

Use opposite action when your emotions do NOT fit the facts or when acting on your emotions is NOT effective.

EVERY EMOTION HAS AN ACTION URGE.

CHANGE THE EMOTION BY ACTING OPPOSITE TO ITS ACTION URGE.

Consider these examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>EMOTION</th>
<th>ACTION URGE</th>
<th>OPPOSITE ACTION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fear</td>
<td>Run away/avoid</td>
<td>Approach/don’t avoid</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anger</td>
<td>Attack</td>
<td>Gently avoid/be a little nice</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sadness</td>
<td>Withdraw/isolate</td>
<td>Get active</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shame</td>
<td>Hide/avoid</td>
<td>Tell the secret to people who will accept it</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

HOW TO DO OPPOSITE ACTION, STEP BY STEP

Step 1. IDENTIFY AND NAME THE EMOTION you want to change.

Step 2. CHECK THE FACTS to see if your emotion is justified by the facts.
Check also whether the intensity and duration of the emotion fit the facts.
(Example: “Irritation” fits the facts when your car is cut in front of; “road rage” does not.)
An emotion is justified when your emotion fits the facts.

Step 3. IDENTIFY AND DESCRIBE YOUR ACTION URGES.

Step 4. ASK WISE MIND: Is expression or acting on this emotion effective in this situation?

If your emotion does not fit the facts or if acting on your emotion is not effective:

Step 5. IDENTIFY OPPOSITE ACTIONS to your action urges.

Step 6. ACT OPPOSITE ALL THE WAY to your action urges.

Step 7. REPEAT ACTING OPPOSITE to your action urges until your emotion changes.
Figuring Out Opposite Actions

FEAR

Fear FITS THE FACTS of a situation whenever there is a THREAT to:

A. Your life or that of someone you care about.
B. Your health or that of someone you care about.
C. Your well-being or that of someone you care about.
D. Other example: ____________________________________________

Follow these suggestions when your fear is NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or NOT EFFECTIVE:

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Fear

Do the OPPOSITE of your fearful action urges. For example:

1. Do what you are afraid of doing . . . OVER AND OVER.
2. APPROACH events, places, tasks, activities, and people you are afraid of.
3. Do things to give yourself a sense of CONTROL and MASTERY over your fears.

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Fear

4. Keep your EYES AND EARS OPEN and focused on the feared event.
   Look around slowly; explore.
5. Take in the information from the situation (i.e., notice that you are safe).
6. Change POSTURE AND KEEP A CONFIDENT VOICE TONE.
   Keep your head and eyes up, and your shoulders back but relaxed.
   Adopt an assertive body posture (e.g., knees apart, hands on hips, heels a bit out).
7. Change your BODY CHEMISTRY.
   For example, do paced breathing by breathing in deeply and breathing out slowly.

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Envy

Do the OPPOSITE of your envious action urges. For example:

1. INHIBIT DESTROYING what the other person has.

2. COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS. Make a list of the things you are thankful for.

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Envy

3. COUNT ALL your blessings.
   Avoid discounting some blessings.
   Avoid exaggerating your deprivations.

4. Stop EXAGGERATING others’ net worth or value; check the facts.

5. CHANGE YOUR POSTURE.
   Unclench hands with palms up and fingers relaxed (WILLING HANDS).
   Relax chest and stomach muscles.
   Unclench teeth.
   Relax facial muscles.
   Half-smile.

6. CHANGE YOUR BODY CHEMISTRY.
   For example, do paced breathing by breathing in deeply and breathing out slowly.

JEALOUSY

Jealousy FITS THE FACTS of a situation whenever:

A. Someone is threatening to take a very important and desired relationship or object away from you.
B. An important and desired relationship is in danger of being damaged or lost.
C. Other example: ____________________________________________________________

Follow these suggestions when your jealousy is NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or is NOT EFFECTIVE:

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Jealousy

Do the OPPOSITE of your jealous action urges. For example:

1. LET GO of controlling others’ actions.
2. SHARE the things and people you have in your life.

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Jealousy

3. STOP SPYING or snooping.
   Suppress probing questions (“Where were you? Who were you with?”).
   Fire your “private detective.”

4. NO AVOIDING. Listen to all the details. Focus on sensations.
   Keep your eyes open; look around.
   Take in all the information about the situation.

5. CHANGE YOUR POSTURE.
   Unclench hands with palms up and fingers relaxed (WILLING HANDS).
   Relax chest and stomach muscles.
   Unclench teeth.
   Relax facial muscles.
   Half-smile.

6. CHANGE YOUR BODY CHEMISTRY.
   For example, do paced breathing by breathing in deeply and breathing out slowly.

LOVE

Love (other than universal love for all) FITS THE FACTS of a situation whenever:

A. Loving a person, animal, or object enhances quality of life for you or for those you care about.

B. Loving a person, animal, or object increases your chances of attaining your own personal goals.

C. Other example: ________________________________________________________________

Follow these suggestions when your love is NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or is NOT EFFECTIVE:

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Love

Do the OPPOSITE of your loving action urges. For example:

1. AVOID the person, animal, or object you love.

2. DISTRACT yourself from thoughts of the person, animal, or object.

3. REMIND yourself of why love is not justified (rehearse the “cons” of loving) when loving thoughts do arise.

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Love

4. AVOID CONTACT with everything that reminds you of a person you love: pictures, letters/messages/e-mails, belongings, mementos, places you were together, places you planned to or wanted to go together, places where you know the person has been or will be. No following, waiting for, or looking for the person.

5. STOP EXPRESSING LOVE for the person, even to friends. Be unfriendly toward the person (e.g., “unfriend” the person on Facebook, Twitter, etc.).

6. ADJUST YOUR POSTURE AND EXPRESSIONS if you are around the person you love.

   No leaning toward him or her.
   No getting close enough to touch.
   No sighing/gazing at the person.

SADNESS

Sadness FITS THE FACTS of a situation whenever:

A. You have lost something or someone permanently.

C. Other example: ____________________________

Follow these suggestions when sadness is NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or is NOT EFFECTIVE:

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Sadness

Do the OPPOSITE of your sad action (or inaction) urges. For example:

1. Get ACTIVE; approach.
2. AVOID AVOIDING.
3. BUILD MASTERY: Do things that make you feel competent and self-confident.
   (See Emotion Regulation Handout 19: Build Mastery and Cope Ahead.)
4. Increase PLEASANT EVENTS.

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Sadness

5. Pay attention to the PRESENT MOMENT!
   Be mindful of your environment—each detail as it unfolds.
   Experience new or positive activities you are engaging in.

6. CHANGE YOUR POSTURE (adopt a “bright” body posture, with head up, eyes open, and shoulders back).
   Keep an upbeat voice tone.

7. CHANGE YOUR BODY CHEMISTRY.
   For example, increase physical movement (run, jog, walk, or do other active exercise).

SHAME

Shame FITS THE FACTS of a situation whenever:

A. You will be rejected by a person or group you care about if your personal characteristics or behavior are made public.

B. Other example: _____________________________________________

Follow these suggestions when both shame and guilt are NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or are NOT EFFECTIVE:

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Shame

Do the OPPOSITE of your action urges. For example:

1. MAKE PUBLIC your personal characteristics or your behavior (with people who won’t reject you).

2. REPEAT the behavior that sets off shame over and over (without hiding the behavior from those who won’t reject you).

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Shame

3. NO APOLOGIZING or trying to make up for a perceived transgression.

4. TAKE IN all the information from the situation.

5. CHANGE YOUR BODY POSTURE. Look innocent and proud. Lift your head; “puff up” your chest; maintain eye contact. Keep your voice tone steady and clear.

Follow these suggestions when shame is NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or is NOT EFFECTIVE, but GUILT IS JUSTIFIED (your behavior does violate your own moral values):

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Shame

Do the OPPOSITE of your action urges. For example:

1. MAKE PUBLIC your behavior (with people who won’t reject you).

2. APOLOGIZE for your behavior.

3. REPAIR the transgressions, or work to prevent or repair similar harm for others.

4. COMMIT to avoiding that mistake in the future.

5. ACCEPT the consequences gracefully.

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Shame

6. FORGIVE yourself. Acknowledge the causes of your behavior.

7. LET IT GO.

GUILT

Guilt FITS THE FACTS of a situation whenever:

A. Your behavior violates your own values or moral code.
B. Other example: ________________________________

Follow these suggestions when both guilt and shame are NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or are NOT EFFECTIVE:

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Guilt

Do the OPPOSITE of your action urges. For example:

1. MAKE PUBLIC your personal characteristics or your behavior (with people who won’t reject you).
2. REPEAT the behavior that sets off guilt over and over (without hiding the behavior from those who won’t reject you).

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Guilt

3. NO APOLOGIZING or trying to make up for a perceived transgression.
4. TAKE IN all the information from the situation.
5. CHANGE YOUR BODY POSTURE. Look innocent and proud. Lift your head; “puff up” your chest; maintain eye contact. Keep your voice tone steady and clear.

Follow these suggestions when guilt is NOT JUSTIFIED by the facts or is NOT EFFECTIVE but SHAME IS JUSTIFIED (you will be rejected by people you care about if found out):

OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Guilt

1. HIDE your behavior (if you want to stay in the group).
2. USE INTERPERSONAL SKILLS (if you want to stay in the group).
3. WORK TO CHANGE the person’s or group’s values.
4. JOIN A NEW GROUP that fits your values (and will not reject you).
5. REPEAT the behavior that sets off guilt over and over with your new group.

ALL-THE-WAY OPPOSITE ACTIONS for Guilt

6. VALIDATE YOURSELF.
Problem Solving

Step 1. FIGURE OUT and DESCRIBE the problem situation.

Step 2. CHECK THE FACTS (all the facts) to be sure you have the right problem situation!

If your facts are correct and the situation is the problem, continue with STEP 3.

If your facts are not correct, go back and repeat STEP 1.

Step 3. IDENTIFY YOUR GOAL in solving the problem.
- Identify what needs to happen or change for you to feel OK.
- Keep it simple, and choose something that can actually happen.

Step 4. BRAINSTORM lots of solutions.
- Think of as many solutions as you can. Ask for suggestions from people you trust.
- Do not be critical of any ideas at first. (Wait for Step 5 to evaluate ideas.)

Step 5. CHOOSE a solution that fits the goal and is likely to work.
- If you are unsure, choose two solutions that look good.
- Do PROS and CONS to compare the solutions.
- Choose the best to try first.

Step 6. Put the solution into ACTION.
- ACT! Try out the solution.
- Take the first step, and then the second . . .

Step 7. EVALUATE the results of using the solution.

It worked? YEA!!! It didn’t work? Go back to STEP 5 and choose a new solution to try.

Shame

A. You will be rejected by a very important person or group if characteristics of yourself or of your behavior are made public.

1. Make public your personal characteristics or behavior (with people who won’t reject you).
2. Repeat the behavior without hiding from people who won’t reject you.
3. Or, if your moral code is violated, apologize and repair; forgive yourself; and let it go.

Guilt

A. Your own behavior violates your own values or moral code.

1. Do what makes you feel guilty over and over again.
2. Make public your behavior (with people who won’t reject you).

   Or, if you will be rejected by others:
3. Hide your behavior.
4. Use interpersonal skills.
5. Work to change your group’s values or join a new group.

Build Mastery and Cope Ahead

Build Mastery

1. Plan on doing at least one thing each day to build a sense of accomplishment.
   Example: ________________________________

2. Plan for success, not failure.
   - Do something difficult, but possible.

3. Gradually increase the difficulty over time.
   - If the first task is too difficult, do something a little easier next time.

4. Look for a challenge.
   - If the task is too easy, try something a little harder next time.

Cope Ahead of Time with Difficult Situations

1. Describe the situation that is likely to prompt problem behavior.
   - Check the facts. Be specific in describing the situation.
   - Name the emotions and actions likely to interfere with using your skills.

2. Decide what coping or problem-solving skills you want to use in the situation.
   - Be specific. Write out in detail how you will cope with the situation and with your emotions and action urges.

3. Imagine the situation in your mind as vividly as possible.
   - Imagine yourself IN the situation NOW, not watching the situation.

4. Rehearse in your mind coping effectively.
   - Rehearse in your mind exactly what you can do to cope effectively.
   - Rehearse your actions, your thoughts, what you say, and how to say it.
   - Rehearse coping effectively with new problems that come up.
   - Rehearse coping effectively with your most feared catastrophe.

5. Practice relaxation after rehearsing.
Taking Care of Your Mind by Taking Care of Your Body

Remember these as PLEASE skills.

P

1. Treat Physical Illness. Take care of your body. See a doctor when necessary. Take prescribed medication.

L

2. Balance Eating. Don’t eat too much or too little. Eat regularly and mindfully throughout the day. Stay away from foods that make you feel overly emotional.

E

3. Avoid Mood-Altering Substances. Stay off illicit drugs, and use alcohol in moderation (if at all).

A

4. Balance Sleep. Try to get 7–9 hours of sleep a night, or at least the amount of sleep that helps you feel good. Keep to a consistent sleep schedule, especially if you are having difficulty sleeping.

S

5. Get Exercise. Do some sort of exercise every day. Try to build up to 20 minutes of daily exercise.
Nightmare Protocol, Step by Step
When Nightmares Keep You from Sleeping

1. Practice relaxation, pleasant imagery, and coping skills first, to be sure you are ready to work on changing your nightmares.
   Do progressive relaxation, paced breathing, and/or Wise Mind exercises; listen to music or guided imagery; review the distress tolerance crisis survival skills.

2. Choose a recurring nightmare you would like to work on.
   This will be your target nightmare. Select a nightmare you can manage now. Put off trauma nightmares until you are ready to work with them—or, if you target a trauma nightmare, skip Step 3.

3. Write down your target nightmare.
   Include sensory descriptions (sights, smells, sounds, tastes, etc.). Also include any thoughts, feelings, and assumptions about yourself during the dream.

4. Choose a changed outcome for the nightmare.
   The change should occur BEFORE anything traumatic or bad happens to you or others in the nightmare. Essentially, you want to come up with a change that will prevent the bad outcome of the usual nightmare from occurring. Write an ending that will give you a sense of peace when you wake up.
   Note: Changes in the nightmare can be very unusual and out of the ordinary (e.g., you might become a person with superhuman powers who is able to escape to safety or fight off attackers). Changed outcomes can include changed thoughts, feelings, or assumptions about yourself.

5. Write down the full nightmare with the changes.

6. REHEARSE and RELAX each night before going to sleep.
   Rehearse the changed nightmare by visualizing the entire dream with the changes each night, before practicing relaxation techniques.

7. REHEARSE and RELAX during the day.
   Visualize the entire dream with the change, and practice relaxation as often as possible during the day.

Sleep Hygiene Protocol
When You Can’t Sleep, What to Do Instead of Ruminating

TO INCREASE THE LIKELIHOOD OF RESTFULNESS/SLEEP:
1. Develop and follow a consistent sleep schedule even on weekends. Go to bed and get up at the same times each day, and avoid anything longer than a 10-minute nap during the day.
2. Do not use your bed in the daytime for things like watching TV, talking on the phone, or reading.
3. Avoid caffeine, nicotine, alcohol, heavy meals, and exercise late in the day before going to sleep.
4. When prepared to sleep, turn off the light, and keep the room quiet and the temperature comfortable and relatively cool. Try an electric blanket if you are cold; putting your feet outside of the blanket or turning on a fan directed toward your bed if you are hot; or wearing a sleeping mask, using earplugs, or turning on a “white noise” machine if needed.
5. Give yourself half an hour to at most an hour to fall asleep. If it doesn’t work, evaluate whether you are calm, or anxious (even if only “background anxiety”), or ruminating.
6. DO NOT CATASTROPHIZE. Remind yourself that you need rest, and aim for reverie (i.e., dreaminess) and resting your brain. Sell yourself on the idea that staying awake is not a catastrophe. Do not decide to give up on sleeping for the night and get up for the “day.”

IF YOU ARE CALM BUT WIDE AWAKE:
7. Get out of bed; go to another room and read a book or do some other activity that will not wake you up further. As you begin to get tired and/or sleepy, go back to bed.
8. Try a light snack (e.g., an apple).

IF YOU ARE ANXIOUS OR RUMINATING
9. Use the cold water TIP skill. Get right back in bed and do the paced breathing TIP skill. (See Distress Tolerance Handout 6: TIP Skills: Changing Your Body Chemistry.) Remember, if you have any medical condition, get medical approval before using cold water.
10. Try the 9–0 meditation practice. Breathe in deeply and breathe out slowly, saying in your mind the number 9. On the next breath out, say 8; then say 7; and so on until you breathe out saying 0. Then start over, but this time start with 8 (instead of 9) as you breathe out, followed by 7, and so on until you reach 0. Next start with 6 as you breathe out, and so on to 0. Then start with 5, then with 4, and so on until you have gone all the way down to starting with 1. (If you get lost, start over with the last number you remember.) Continue until you fall asleep.
11. Focus on the bodily sensation of the rumination (rumination is often escape from difficult emotional sensations).
12. Reassure yourself that worries in the middle of the night are just “middle-of-the-night-thinking,” and that in the morning you will think and feel differently.
13. Read an emotionally engrossing novel for a few minutes until you feel somewhat tired. Then stop reading, close your eyes, and try to continue the novel in your head.
14. If rumination doesn’t stop, follow these guidelines: “If it’s solvable, solve it. If it is insolvable, go deep into the worry all the way to the “catastrophe”—the very worst outcome you can imagine—and then imagine coping ahead with the catastrophe.” (See Emotion Regulation Handout 19: Build Mastery and Cope Ahead.)

If nothing else works, with eyes closed, listen to public radio (BBC, NPR, etc.) at low volume (use headphones if necessary). Public radio is a good choice for this, because there is little fluctuation in voice tone or volume.

Handouts for Managing Really Difficult Emotions
Overview:
Managing Really Difficult Emotions

MINDFULNESS OF CURRENT EMOTIONS
Suppressing emotion increases suffering.

Mindfulness of current emotions is the path to emotional freedom.

MANAGING EXTREME EMOTIONS
Sometimes emotional arousal is so high that you can’t use any skills, particularly if the skills are complicated or take any thought on your part.

This is a skills breakdown point.

Crisis survival skills are needed.

TROUBLESHOOTING AND REVIEW
There are many ways to change emotions.

It can be helpful to have a list of the important skills to look at when you can’t remember the skills you need to regulate your emotions.
EMOTION REGULATION HANDOUT 22
(Emotion Regulation Worksheet 15)

Mindfulness of Current Emotions:
Letting Go of Emotional Suffering

OBSERVE YOUR EMOTION

• Step back and just notice your emotion.
• Experience your emotion as a WAVE, coming and going.
• Now imagine surfing the emotion wave.

• Try not to BLOCK or SUPPRESS the emotion.
• Don’t try to GET RID of or PUSH away the emotion.

• Don’t try to KEEP the emotion around.
• Don’t HOLD ON to it.
• Don’t AMPLIFY it.

PRACTICE MINDFULNESS OF BODY SENSATIONS

• Notice WHERE in your body you are feeling emotional sensations.
• Experience the SENSATIONS as fully as you can.
• Observe how LONG it takes before the emotion goes down.

REMEMBER: YOU ARE NOT YOUR EMOTION

• Do not necessarily ACT on your emotion.
• Remember times when you have felt DIFFERENT.

PRACTICE LOVING YOUR EMOTION

• RESPECT your emotion.
• Do not JUDGE your emotion.
• Practice WILLINGNESS.
• Radically ACCEPT your emotion.
Managing Extreme Emotions

Follow these suggestions when emotional arousal is very HIGH—so extreme that your ability to use your skills breaks down.

First, observe and describe that you are at your SKILLS BREAKDOWN POINT:

- Your distress is extreme.
- You are overwhelmed.
- You cannot focus your mind on anything but the emotion itself.
- Your mind shuts down; your brain stops processing information.
- You cannot solve problems or use complicated skills.

Now check the facts. Are you really “falling apart” at this level of distress?

If no, USE YOUR SKILLS.

If yes, go to Step 1: You are at your SKILLS BREAKDOWN POINT.

Step 1. Use crisis survival skills to bring down your arousal:
(See Distress Tolerance Handouts 6–9a.)
• TIP your body chemistry.
• DISTRACT yourself from the emotional events.
• SELF-SOOTHE through the five senses.
• IMPROVE the moment you are in.

Step 2. Return to mindfulness of current emotions.
(See Emotion Regulation Handout 22.)

Step 3. Try other emotion regulation skills (if needed).
Troubleshooting Emotion Regulation Skills: When What You Are Doing Isn’t Working

CHECK YOUR BIOLOGICAL SENSITIVITY

1. ASK: Am I biologically more vulnerable?
   - Do I have untreated physical illness or distress?
   - Am I out of balance on eating, use of drugs, sleep, exercise?
   - Have I taken medications as prescribed?

2. WORK on your PLEASE skills.
   1. Take care of physical illness and distress.
   2. Take medications as prescribed. Check if others are needed.
   3. Try again.

CHECK YOUR SKILLS

2. REVIEW what you have tried.
   - Did you try a skill likely to be effective?
   - Did you follow the skill instructions to the letter?

3. WORK on your skills.
   1. Review and try other skills.
   2. Get coaching if you need it.
   3. Try again.

CHECK FOR REINFORCERS

3. ASK: Do my emotions . . .
   - COMMUNICATE an important message or influence people to do things?
   - MOTIVATE me to do things I think are important?
   - VALIDATE my beliefs or my identity?
   - FEEL GOOD?

4. IF YES:
   1. Practice interpersonal effectiveness skills to communicate.
   2. Work to find new reinforcers to motivate yourself.
   4. Do PROS AND CONS for changing emotions.
   (See Emotion Regulation Worksheet 1.)

CHECK YOUR MOOD

• ASK: Am I putting in the time and effort that solving my problem will take?

• IF NO:
  1. Do PROS AND CONS for working hard on skills.
  2. Practice RADICAL ACCEPTANCE and WILLINGNESS skills.
  3. Practice the mindfulness skills of PARTICIPATING and EFFECTIVENESS

(See Mindfulness Handouts 4 and 5.)

CHECK FOR EMOTIONAL OVERLOAD

• ASK: Am I too upset to use complicated skills?

• IF YES, ask: Can the problems I am worrying about be easily solved now?
  1. IF YES, do PROBLEM SOLVING.

(See Emotion Regulation Handouts 9, 12.)
  2. IF NO, practice mindfulness of CURRENT EMOTIONS.

(See Emotion Regulation Handout 22.)

• IF your emotions are too high for you to think straight:
  1. Go to TIP skills.

(See Distress Tolerance Handout 5.)

CHECK FOR EMOTION MYTHS GETTING IN THE WAY

• CHECK FOR:
  1. Judgmental myths about emotions (e.g., “Some emotions are stupid,” “There is a right way to feel in every situation”)?
  2. Beliefs that emotions and identity are the same (e.g., “My emotions are who I am”)?

• IF YES:
  1. Check the facts.
  2. Challenge myths.
  3. Practice thinking nonjudgmentally.
Review of Skills for Emotion Regulation

- Reduce Emotional Vulnerability
  1. Accumulate positive emotions
  2. Build mastery
  3. Cope ahead
  4. PLEASE skills

- Change Emotional Thoughts and Interpretations
  Check the Facts

- Reduce Emotional Prompting Events
  Problem Solving
  Distraction

- Manage Aftereffects
  Repeat for Secondary Emotions

Handouts for Crisis Survival Skills
Overview: Crisis Survival Skills

These are skills for tolerating painful events, urges, and emotions when you cannot make things better right away.

- The STOP Skill
- Pros and Cons
- TIP Your Body Chemistry
- Distract with Wise Mind ACCEPTS
- Self-Soothe with the Five Senses
- Improve the Moment
When to Use Crisis Survival Skills

YOU ARE IN A CRISIS when the situation is:

- Highly stressful.
- Short-term (that is, it won’t last a long time).
- Creates intense pressure to resolve the crisis now.

USE CRISIS SURVIVAL SKILLS when:

1. You have intense pain that cannot be helped quickly.
2. You want to act on your emotions, but it will only make things worse.
3. Emotion mind threatens to overwhelm you, and you need to stay skillful.
4. You are overwhelmed, yet demands must be met.
5. Arousal is extreme, but problems can’t be solved immediately.

DON’T USE CRISIS SURVIVAL SKILLS for:

- Everyday problems.
- Solving all your life problems.
- Making your life worth living.
STOP Skill

Stop
Do not just react. Stop! Freeze! Do not move a muscle! Your emotions may try to make you act without thinking. Stay in control!

Take a step back
Take a step back from the situation. Take a break. Let go. Take a deep breath. Do not let your feelings make you act impulsively.

Observe
Notice what is going on inside and outside you. What is the situation? What are your thoughts and feelings? What are others saying or doing?

Proceed mindfully
Act with awareness. In deciding what to do, consider your thoughts and feelings, the situation, and other people’s thoughts and feelings. Think about your goals. Ask Wise Mind: Which actions will make it better or worse?

Pros and Cons

Use pros and cons any time you have to decide between two courses of action.

- An urge is a crisis when it is very strong and when acting on the urge will make things worse in the long term.
- Make a list of the pros and cons of acting on your crisis urges. These might be to engage in dangerous, addictive, or harmful behaviors, or they might be to give in, give up, or avoid doing what is necessary to build a life you want to live.
- Make another list of the pros and cons of resisting crisis urges—that is, tolerating the distress and not giving in to the urges.
- Use the grid below to evaluate both sets of pros and cons (this type of grid is also used in Distress Tolerance Worksheet 3). Or you can use the type of grid seen in Distress Tolerance Worksheet 3a and in the pros-and-cons worksheets for other modules.

Before an overwhelming crisis urge hits:
Write out your pros and cons; carry them with you.
Rehearse your pros and cons over and over.

When an overwhelming crisis urge hits:
Review your pros and cons. Get out your list and read it over again.
- Imagine the positive consequences of resisting the urge.
- Think of the negative consequences of giving in to crisis behaviors.
- Remember past consequences when you have acted on crisis urges.
TIP Skills: Changing Your Body Chemistry

To reduce extreme emotion mind fast.

Remember these as TIP skills:

TIP THE TEMPERATURE of your face with COLD WATER
(to calm down fast)

- Holding your breath, put your face in a bowl of cold water, or hold a cold pack (or zip-lock bag of cold water) on your eyes and cheeks.
- Hold for 30 seconds. Keep water above 50°F.

INTENSE EXERCISE
(to calm down your body when it is revved up by emotion)

- Engage in intense exercise, if only for a short while.
- Expend your body's stored up physical energy by running, walking fast, jumping, playing basketball, lifting weights, etc.

PACED BREATHING
(pace your breathing by slowing it down)

- Breathe deeply into your belly.
- Slow your pace of inhaling and exhaling way down (on average, five to six breaths per minute).
- Breathe out more slowly than you breathe in (for example, 5 seconds in and 7 seconds out).

PAIRED MUSCLE RELAXATION
(to calm down by pairing muscle relaxation with breathing out)

- While breathing into your belly deeply tense your body muscles (not so much as to cause a cramp).
- Notice the tension in your body.
- While breathing out, say the word “Relax” in your mind.
- Let go of the tension.
- Notice the difference in your body.

*Caution: Very cold water decreases your heart rate rapidly. Intense exercise will increase heart rate. Consult your health care provider before using these skills if you have a heart or medical condition, a lowered base heart rate due to medications, take a beta-blocker, are allergic to cold, or have an eating disorder.

DISTRESS TOLERANCE HANDOUT 6A

(Distress Tolerance Worksheet 4)

Using Cold Water, Step by Step

COLD WATER CAN WORK WONDERS

When you put your full face into cold water . . . or you put a zip-lock bag with cold water on your eyes and upper cheeks, and hold your breath, it tells your brain you are diving underwater.

This causes the “dive response” to occur. (It may take 15–30 seconds to start.)

Your heart slows down, blood flow to nonessential organs is reduced, and blood flow is redirected to the brain and heart.

This response can actually help regulate your emotions.

This will be useful as a distress tolerance strategy when you are having a very strong, distressing emotion, or when you are having very strong urges to engage in dangerous behaviors.

(This strategy works best when you are sitting quietly—activity and distraction may make it less effective.)

TRY IT OUT!

---

Cautions: Very cold water decreases your heart rate. If you have any heart or medical condition, have a lowered base heart rate due to medications, or are on a beta-blocker, consult your health care provider before using these skills. Avoid ice water if you are allergic to the cold.

Paired Muscle Relaxation, Step by Step

If you have decided to practice paired muscle relaxation, it can be very helpful to practice relaxing each of your muscles first.

When you are starting, practice in a quiet place to reduce distractions, and make sure that you have enough time. As you improve with practice, you will want to practice in many different kinds of places, so that you can relax effectively when you most need to.

Remember that effectiveness improves with practice. If judgments arise, observe them, let them go, and return to your practice. If you become anxious, try focusing on breathing in to the count of 5 and out to the count of 7 (or the counts you have already determined for paced breathing), breathing all the while into your belly until you can return to relaxation exercises.

Now that you are ready to begin . . .

1. Get your body into a comfortable position in which you can relax. Loosen tight clothing. Lie or sit down, with all body parts uncrossed and no body part supporting any others.
2. For each area of the body listed below, gather tension by tightening muscles. Focus on the sensation of tightness in and around that area. Hold the tension as you inhale for 5–6 seconds, then release and breathe out.
3. As you release, say in your mind very slowly the word “Relax.”
4. Observe the changes in sensations as you relax for 10–15 seconds then move on to the next muscle.

Start first with each of the 16 muscle groups.
Once you can do that, practice with medium groups of muscles and then large groups.
Once you are good at that, practice tensing your entire body at once.

When you tense your entire body, you are like a robot—stiff, nothing moving.
When you relax your entire body, you are like a rag doll—all muscles drooping down.

Large
Medium
Small

1. Hands and wrists: Make fists with both hands and pull fists up on the wrists.
2. Lower and upper arms: Make fists and bend both arms up to touch your shoulders.
3. Shoulders: Pull both shoulders up to your ears.
4. Forehead: Pull eyebrows close together, wrinkling forehead.
5. Eyes: Shut eyes tightly.
6. Nose and upper cheeks: Scrunch up nose; bring upper lips and cheeks up toward eyes.
7. Lips and lower face: Press lips together; bring edges of lips back toward ears.
8. Tongue and mouth: Teeth together; tongue pushing on upper mouth.
9. Neck: Push head back into chair, floor, or bed, or push chin down to chest.
14. Upper legs and thighs: Legs out; tense thighs.
15. Calves: Legs out; point toes down.
16. Ankles: Legs out; point toes together, heels out, toes curled under.

Remember, paired relaxation is a skill. It takes time to develop. With practice, you will notice the benefits.

Effective Rethinking and Paired Relaxation, Step by Step

Step 1. Write down the prompting event that is often related to distressing emotions and that you want to work on reducing your emotional reactions to.

Step 2. Ask: “What must I be telling myself (that is, what are my interpretations and thoughts) about the event that causes such distress and arousal?” Write these down. Examples:

- “He hates me,” “I can’t stand this!” “I can’t do this,” “I’ll never make it,” “I’m out of control!”

Step 3. Rethink the situation and its meaning in a way that counteracts the thoughts and interpretations producing stress and distressing emotions. As you rethink the situation, write down as many effective thoughts as you can to replace the stressful thoughts.

Step 4. When you are not in the stressful prompting event, practice imagining the stressful event:
  - a. At the same time, while breathing in, say to yourself an effective self-statement.
  - b. When breathing out, say “Relax” while intentionally relaxing all your muscles.

Step 5. Keep practicing every chance you get until you have mastered the strategy.

Step 6. When a stressful situation occurs, practice effective rethinking and paired relaxation.

---

Distracting

A way to remember these skills is the phrase “Wise Mind ACCEPTS.”

With Activities:
- Focus attention on a task you need to get done.
- Rent movies; watch TV.
- Clean a room in your house.
- Find an event to go to.
- Play computer games.
- Go walking. Exercise.
- Surf the Internet. Write e-mails.
- Play sports.
- Go out for a meal or eat a favorite food.
- Call or go out with a friend.
- Listen to your iPod; download music.
- Build something.
- Spend time with your children.
- Play cards.
- Read magazines, books, comics.
- Do crossword puzzles or Sudoku.
- Other:

With Contributing:
- Find volunteer work to do.
- Help a friend or family member.
- Surprise someone with something nice (a card, a favor, a hug).
- Give away things you don’t need.
- Call or send an instant message encouraging someone or just saying hi.
- Make something nice for someone else.
- Do something thoughtful.
- Other:

With Comparisons:
- Compare how you are feeling now to a time when you felt different.
- Think about people coping the same as you or less well than you.
- Compare yourself to those less fortunate.
- Watch reality shows about others’ troubles; read about disasters, others’ suffering.
- Other:

With different Emotions:
- Read emotional books or stories, old letters.
- Watch emotional TV shows; go to emotional movies.
- Listen to emotional music.
(Be sure the event creates different emotions.)
- Ideas: Scary movies, joke books, comedies, funny records, religious music, soothing music or music that fires you up, going to a store and reading funny greeting cards.
- Other:

With Pushing away:
- Push the situation away by leaving it for a while.
- Leave the situation mentally.
- Build an imaginary wall between yourself and the situation.
- Block thoughts and images from your mind.
- Notice ruminating: Yell “No!”
- Refuse to think about the painful situations.
- Put the pain on a shelf. Box it up and put it away for a while.
- Deny the problem for the moment.
- Other:

With other Thoughts:
- Count to 10; count colors in a painting or poster or out the window; count anything.
- Repeat words to a song in your mind.
- Work puzzles.
- Watch TV or read.
- Other:

With other Sensations:
- Squeeze a rubber ball very hard.
- Listen to very loud music.
- Hold ice in your hand or mouth.
- Go out in the rain or snow.
- Take a hot or cold shower.
- Other:
Self-Soothing

A way to remember these skills is to think of soothing each of your FIVE SENSES.

With Vision:
- Look at the stars at night.
- Look at pictures you like in a book.
- Buy one beautiful flower.
- Make one space in a room pleasing to look at.
- Light a candle and watch the flame.
- Set a pretty place at the table using your best things.
- Go people-watching or window-shopping.
- Go to a museum or poster shop with beautiful art.
- Sit in the lobby of a beautiful old hotel.
- Look at nature around you.
- Walk in a pretty part of town.
- Watch a sunrise or a sunset.
- Go to a dance performance, or watch it on TV.
- Be mindful of each sight that passes in front of you.
- Take a walk in a park or a scenic hike.
- Browse through stores looking at things.
- Other: ________________________

With Hearing:
- Listen to soothing or invigorating music.
- Pay attention to sounds of nature (waves, birds, rainfall, leaves rustling).
- Pay attention to the sounds of the city (traffic, horns, city music).
- Sing to your favorite songs.
- Hum a soothing tune.
- Learn to play an instrument.
- Burn a CD or make an iPod mix with music that will get you through tough times. Turn it on.
- Be mindful of any sounds that come your way, letting them go in one ear and out the other.
- Turn on the radio.
- Other: ________________________

With Smell:
- Use your favorite soap, shampoo, aftershave, cologne, or lotions, or try them on in the store.
- Burn incense or light a scented candle.
- Open a package of coffee and inhale the aroma.
- Put lemon oil on your furniture.
- Put potpourri or eucalyptus oil in a bowl in your room.
- Sit in a new car and breathe the aroma.
- Boil cinnamon. Make cookies, bread, or popcorn.
- Smell the roses.
- Walk in a wooded area and mindfully breathe in the fresh smells of nature.
- Open the window and smell the air.
- Other: ________________________

With Taste:
- Eat some of your favorite foods.
- Drink your favorite soothing drink, such as herbal tea, hot chocolate, a latté, or a smoothie.
- Treat yourself to a dessert.
- Eat macaroni and cheese or another favorite childhood food.
- Sample flavors in an ice cream store.
- Suck on a piece of peppermint candy.
- Chew your favorite gum.
- Get a little bit of a special food you don’t usually spend the money on, such as fresh-squeezed orange juice or your favorite candy.
- Really taste the food you eat. Eat one thing mindfully.
- Other: ________________________

With Touch:
- Take a long hot bath or shower.
- Pet your dog or cat.
- Have a massage. Soak your feet.
- Put creamy lotion on your whole body.
- Put a cold compress on your forehead.
- Sink into a comfortable chair in your home.
- Put on a blouse or shirt that has a pleasant feel.
- Take a drive with the car windows rolled down.
- Run your hand along smooth wood or leather.
- Hug someone.
- Put clean sheets on the bed.
- Wrap up in a blanket.
- Notice touch that is soothing.
- Other: ________________________

Body Scan Meditation Step by Step

Sit on a chair, or lie on your back on the floor with legs uncrossed. Put your arms in a comfortable position by your side, on your abdomen, or (if sitting) put them on your thighs palms up. Open your eyes partially to let light in. If you are lying on the floor, put a cushion under your knees if needed. Imagine your breath flowing to each part of your body as your attention gently moves up your body. Adopt a mind of curiosity and interest as you focus on each part of your body.

Focus on your breathing. Notice how the air moves in and out of your body.

- Take several deep breaths until you begin to feel comfortable and relaxed.
- Direct your attention to the toes of your left foot.
- Notice the sensations in that part of your body while remaining aware of your breathing.
- Imagine each breath flowing to your toes.
- Looking with curiosity, ask, “What am I feeling in this part of my body?”
- Focus on your left toes for several minutes.

- Then move your focus to the arch and heel of your left foot, and hold it there for a minute or two while continuing to pay attention to your breathing.
- Notice the sensations on your skin of warmth or coldness; notice the weight of your foot on the floor.
- Imagine your breath flowing to the arch and heel of your left foot.
- Ask, “What are the feelings in the arch and heel of my left foot?”

- Follow the same procedure as you move to your left ankle, calf, knee, upper legs, and thigh.
- Repeat with the right leg, starting with your toes.
- Then move through your pelvis, and lower back, and around to your stomach.
- Focus on the rising and falling of your belly as your breath goes in and out.
- Then go on to your chest; left hand, arm, and shoulder; right hand, arm, and shoulder; neck, chin, tongue, mouth, lips, and lower face; and nose.
- Notice your breath as it comes in and out of your nostrils.
- Then focus on your upper cheeks, eyes, forehead, and scalp.

- Finally, focus on the very top of your hair.
- Then let go of your body altogether.

Don’t worry if you notice that thoughts, sounds, or other sensations come into your awareness. Just notice them and then gently refocus your mind. Don’t worry if your mind has been drawn away from the object of your attention and you find yourself thinking about something else (it nearly always happens). Just calmly, gently, but with resolution, turn your mind back to the part of the body you’ve reached. You may need to bring your attention back over and over. You are not alone in this. It is this bringing of your attention back over and over, without judgment or harshness, that is the essential element of the meditation.
DISTRESS TOLERANCE HANDOUT 9

(Distress Tolerance Worksheets 7, 7a, 7b)

Improving the Moment
A way to remember these skills is the word IMPROVE.

With Imagery:
- Imagine very relaxing scenes.
- Imagine a secret room within yourself. Furnish it the way you like. Close and lock the door on anything that can hurt you.
- Imagine everything going well.
- Make up a calming fantasy world.
- Imagine hurtful emotions draining out of you like water out of a pipe.
- Remember a happy time and imagine yourself in it again; play out the time in your mind again.
- Other: ____________________________

With Meaning:
- Find purpose or meaning in a painful situation.
- Focus on whatever positive aspects of a painful situation you can find.
- Repeat these positive aspects in your mind.
- Remember, listen to, or read about spiritual values.
- Other: ____________________________

With Prayer:
- Open your heart to a supreme being, God, or your own Wise Mind.
- Ask for strength to bear the pain.
- Turn things over to God or a higher being.
- Other: ____________________________

With Relaxing actions:
- Take a hot bath or sit in a hot tub.
- Drink hot milk.
- Massage your neck and scalp.
- Practice yoga or other stretching.
- Breathe deeply.
- Change your facial expression.
- Other: ____________________________

With One thing in the moment:
- Focus your entire attention on just what you are doing.
- Keep yourself in the moment.
- Put your mind in the present.
- Focus your entire attention on the physical
- Listen to a sensory awareness recording (or use Distress Tolerance Handout 9a)
- Other: ____________________________

With a brief Vacation:
- Give yourself a brief vacation.
- Get in bed; pull the covers up over your head.
- Go to the beach or the woods for the day.
- Get a magazine and read it with chocolates.
- Turn off your phone for a day.
- Take a blanket to the park and sit on it for a whole afternoon.
- Take a 1-hour breather from hard work.
- Take a brief vacation from responsibility.
- Other: ____________________________

With self-Encouragement and rethinking the situation:
- Cheerlead yourself: “You go, girl!” “You da man!”
- “I will make it out of this.”
- “I’m doing the best I can.”
- Repeat over and over: “I can stand it.”
- “This too shall pass.”
- “I will be OK.”
- “It won’t last forever.”

List (and then practice) rethoughts that are particularly important in your crisis situations (e.g., “The fact that he did not pick me up doesn’t mean he doesn’t love me”):

Sensory Awareness, Step by Step

Find a comfortable position. Staying in this position, listen to the questions below, listening for your response after each question. If you do not have a recording of these questions, you can make one for yourself (or ask a friend to make one), recording each question with about 5 seconds between each question.

1. Can you feel your hair touching your head?
2. Can you feel your belly rising and falling as you breathe?
3. Can you feel the space between your eyes?
4. Can you feel the distance between your ears?
5. Can you feel your breath touching the back of your eyes while you inhale?
6. Can you picture something far away?
7. Can you notice your arms touching your body?
8. Can you feel the bottoms of your feet?
9. Can you imagine a beautiful day at the beach?
10. Can you notice the space within your mouth?
11. Can you notice the position of your tongue in your mouth?
12. Can you feel a breeze against your cheek?
13. Can you feel how one arm is heavier than the other?
14. Can you feel a tingling or numbness in one hand?
15. Can you feel how one arm is more relaxed than the other?
16. Can you feel a change in the temperature in the air around you?
17. Can you feel how your left arm is warmer than the right?
18. Can you imagine how it would feel to be a rag doll?
19. Can you notice any tightness in your left forearm?
20. Can you imagine something very pleasant?
21. Can you imagine what it would feel like to float on a cloud?
22. Can you imagine what it would feel like to be stuck in molasses?
23. Can you picture something far away?
24. Can you feel a heaviness in your legs?
25. Can you imagine floating in warm water?
26. Can you notice your body hanging on your bones?
27. Can you allow yourself to drift lazily?
28. Can you feel your face getting soft?
29. Can you imagine a beautiful flower?
30. Can you feel how one arm and leg are heavier than the other?

Overview:
Reality Acceptance Skills

These are skills for how to live a life that is not the life you want.

RADICAL ACCEPTANCE

TURNING THE MIND

WILLINGNESS

HALF-SMILING AND WILLING HANDS

ALLOWING THE MIND: MINDFULNESS OF CURRENT THOUGHTS
Radical Acceptance

(When you cannot keep painful events and emotions from coming your way.)

WHAT IS RADICAL ACCEPTANCE?

1. Radical means all the way, complete and total.
2. It is accepting in your mind, your heart, and your body.
3. It’s when you stop fighting reality, stop throwing tantrums because reality is not the way you want it, and let go of bitterness.

WHAT HAS TO BE ACCEPTED?

1. Reality is as it is (the facts about the past and the present are the facts, even if you don’t like them).
2. There are limitations on the future for everyone (but only realistic limitations need to be accepted).
3. Everything has a cause (including events and situations that cause you pain and suffering).
4. Life can be worth living even with painful events in it.

WHY ACCEPT REALITY?

1. Rejecting reality does not change reality.
2. Changing reality requires first accepting reality.
3. Pain can’t be avoided; it is nature’s way of signaling that something is wrong.
4. Rejecting reality turns pain into suffering.
5. Refusing to accept reality can keep you stuck in unhappiness, bitterness, anger, sadness, shame, or other painful emotions.
6. Acceptance may lead to sadness, but deep calmness usually follows.
7. The path out of hell is through misery. By refusing to accept the misery that is part of climbing out of hell, you fall back into hell.
Radical Acceptance: Factors That Interfere

RADICAL ACCEPTANCE IS NOT:
Approval, compassion, love, passivity, or against change.

FACTORS THAT INTERFERE WITH ACCEPTANCE

1. You don’t have the skills for acceptance; you do not know how to accept really painful events and facts.

2. You believe that if you accept a painful event, you are making light of it or are approving of the facts, and that nothing will be done to change or prevent future painful events.

3. Emotions get in the way (unbearable sadness; anger at the person or group that caused the painful event; rage at the injustice of the world; overwhelming shame about who you are; guilt about your own behavior).

DISTRESS TOLERANCE HANDOUT 11B
(Distress Tolerance Worksheets 9, 9a)

Practicing Radical Acceptance Step by Step

- Observe that you are questioning or fighting reality (“It shouldn’t be this way”).

- Remind yourself that the unpleasant reality is just as it is and cannot be changed (“This is what happened”).

- Remind yourself that there are causes for the reality. Acknowledge that some sort of history led up to this very moment. Consider how people’s lives have been shaped by a series of factors. Notice that given these causal factors and how history led up to this moment, this reality had to occur just this way (“This is how things happened”).

- Practice accepting with the whole self (mind, body, and spirit). Be creative in finding ways to involve your whole self. Use accepting self-talk—but also consider using relaxation; mindfulness of your breath; half-smiling and willing hands while thinking about what feels unacceptable; prayer; going to a place that helps bring you to acceptance; or imagery.

- Practice opposite action. List all the behaviors you would do if you did accept the facts. Then act as if you have already accepted the facts. Engage in the behaviors that you would do if you really had accepted.

- Cope ahead with events that seem unacceptable. Imagine (in your mind’s eye) believing what you don’t want to accept. Rehearse in your mind what you would do if you accepted what seems unacceptable.

- Attend to body sensations as you think about what you need to accept.

- Allow disappointment, sadness, or grief to arise within you.

- Acknowledge that life can be worth living even when there is pain.

- Do pros and cons if you find yourself resisting practicing acceptance.
Turning the Mind

TURNING THE MIND is like facing a fork in the road. You have to turn your mind toward the acceptance road, and away from the road of rejecting reality.

TURNING THE MIND is choosing to accept.

The CHOICE to accept does not itself equal acceptance. It just puts you on the path.

TURNING THE MIND, STEP BY STEP

1. OBSERVE that you are not accepting. (Look for anger, bitterness, annoyance; avoiding emotions; saying “Why me?” “Why is this happening?”, “I can’t stand this,” “It shouldn’t be this way.”)

2. Go within yourself and MAKE AN INNER COMMITMENT to accept reality as it is.

3. DO IT AGAIN, over and over. Keep turning your mind to acceptance each time you come to the fork in the road where you can reject reality or accept it.

4. DEVELOP A PLAN for catching yourself in the future when you drift out of acceptance.
Willingness

Willingness is readiness to enter and participate fully in life and living.

Find a WILLING RESPONSE to each situation.

Willingness is DOING JUST WHAT IS NEEDED:
• In each situation.
• Wholeheartedly, without dragging your feet.

Willingness is listening very carefully to your WISE MIND, and then acting from your WISE MIND.
Willingness is ACTING WITH AWARENESS that you are connected to the universe (to the stars, people you like and don’t like, the floor, etc.).

Replace WILLFULNESS with WILLINGNESS.

• Willfulness is REFUSING TO TOLERATE the moment.
• Willfulness is refusing to make changes that are needed.
• Willfulness is GIVING UP.
• Willfulness is the OPPOSITE OF “DOING WHAT WORKS.”
• Willfulness is trying to FIX EVERY SITUATION.
• Willfulness is insisting on BEING IN CONTROL.
• Willfulness is ATTACHMENT TO “ME, ME, ME” and “what I want right now!”

WILLINGNESS, STEP BY STEP

1. OBSERVE the willfulness. Label it. Experience it.
2. RADICALLY ACCEPT that at this moment you feel (and may be acting) willful. You cannot fight willfulness with willfulness.
3. TURN YOUR MIND toward acceptance and willingness.
4. Try HALF-SMILING and a WILLING POSTURE.
5. When willfulness is immovable, ASK, “WHAT’S THE THREAT?”

Situations where I notice my own:

Willfulness: ______________________________________
Willingness: ______________________________________
Half-Smiling and Willing Hands

Accepting reality with your body.

HALF-SMILING

1st. Relax your face from the top of your head down to your chin and jaw.
   Let go of each facial muscle (forehead, eyes, and brows; cheeks, mouth, and tongue; teeth slightly apart). If you have difficulty, try tensing your facial muscles and then letting go.
   A tense smile is a grin (and might tell your brain you are hiding or masking your real feelings).

2nd. Let both corners of your lips go slightly up, just so you can feel them.
   It is not necessary for others to see it. A half-smile is slightly upturned lips with a relaxed face.

3rd. Try to adopt a serene facial expression.
   Remember, your face communicates to your brain; your body connects to your mind.

WILLING HANDS

Standing: Drop your arms down from your shoulders; keep them straight or bent slightly at the elbows. With hands unclenched, turn your hands outward, with thumbs out to your sides, palms up, and fingers relaxed.

Sitting: Place your hands on your lap or your thighs. With hands unclenched, turn your hands outward, with palms up and fingers relaxed.

Lying down: Arms by your side, hands unclenched, turn your palms up with fingers relaxed.

Remember, your hands communicate to your brain; your body connects to your mind.
Practicing Half-Smiling and Willing Hands

1. HALF-SMILE WHEN YOU FIRST WAKE UP IN THE MORNING.

   Hang a branch, any other sign, or even the word “smile” on the ceiling or wall, so that you see it right away when you open your eyes. This sign will serve as your reminder. Use these seconds before you get out of bed to take hold of your breath. Inhale and exhale three breaths gently while maintaining a half-smile. Follow your breaths. Add willing hands to your half-smile, or practice willing hands alone.

2. HALF-SMILE DURING YOUR FREE MOMENTS.

   Anywhere you find yourself sitting or standing, half-smile. Look at a child, a leaf, a painting on a wall, or anything that is relatively still, and smile. Inhale and exhale quietly three times.

3. HALF-SMILE WITH WILLING HANDS WHILE YOU ARE LISTENING TO MUSIC.

   Listen to a piece of music for 2 or 3 minutes. Pay attention to the words, music, rhythm, and sentiments of the music you are listening to (not your daydreams of other times). Half-smile while watching your inhalations and exhalations. Adopt a willing-hands posture.

4. HALF-SMILE WITH WILLING HANDS WHEN YOU ARE IRRITATED.

   When you realize “I'm irritated,” half-smile or adopt a willing-hands posture at once. Inhale and exhale quietly, maintaining a half-smile or willing hands for three breaths.

5. HALF-SMILE IN A LYING-DOWN POSITION.

   Lie on your back on a flat surface, without the support of mattress or pillow. Keep your two arms loosely by your sides, and keep your two legs slightly apart, stretched out before you. Maintain willing hands and a half-smile. Breathe in and out gently, keeping your attention focused on your breath. Let go of every muscle in your body. Relax each muscle as though it were sinking down through the floor, or as though it were as soft and yielding as a piece of silk hanging in the breeze to dry. Let go entirely, keeping your attention only on your breath and half-smile. Think of yourself as a cat, completely relaxed before a warm fire, whose muscles yield without resistance to anyone’s touch. Continue for 15 breaths.

6. HALF-SMILE IN A SITTING POSITION.

   Sit on the floor with your back straight, or on a chair with your two feet touching the floor. Half-smile. Inhale and exhale while maintaining the half-smile. Let go.

7. HALF-SMILE WITH WILLING HANDS WHILE YOU ARE CONTEMPLATING A PERSON YOU DISLIKE OR ARE ANGRY WITH.

- Sit quietly. Breathe and smile a half-smile. Hold your hands open with palms up.
- Imagine the image of the person who has caused you suffering.
- Regard the features you dislike the most or find the most repulsive.
- Try to examine what makes this person happy and what causes suffering in his or her daily life.
- Imagine the person’s perceptions; try to see what patterns of thought and reason this person follows.
- Examine what motivates this person’s hopes and actions.
- Finally, consider the person’s consciousness. See whether the person’s views and insights are open and free or not, and whether or not the person has been influenced by any prejudices, narrow-mindedness, hatred, or anger.
- See whether or not the person is master of him- or herself.
- Continue until you feel compassion rise in your heart like a well filling with fresh water, and your anger and resentment disappear. Practice this exercise many times on the same person.

(Distress Tolerance Worksheets 8, 8a, 12)

Mindfulness of Current Thoughts

1. OBSERVE YOUR THOUGHTS.
   - As waves, coming and going.
   - Not suppressing thoughts.
   - Not judging thoughts.
   - Acknowledging their presence.
   - Not keeping thoughts around.
   - Not analyzing thoughts.
   - Practicing willingness.
   - Stepping back and observing thoughts as they run in and out of your mind.

2. ADOPT A CURIOUS MIND.
   - Ask, “Where do my thoughts come from?” Watch and see.
   - Notice that every thought that comes also goes out of your mind.
   - Observe but do not evaluate your thoughts. Let go of judgments.

3. REMEMBER: YOU ARE NOT YOUR THOUGHTS.
   - Do not necessarily act on thoughts.
   - Remember times when you have had very different thoughts.
   - Remind yourself that catastrophic thinking is “emotion mind.”
   - Remember how you think when you are not feeling such intense suffering and pain.

4. DON’T BLOCK OR SUPPRESS THOUGHTS.
   - Ask, “What sensations are these thoughts trying to avoid?” Turn your mind to the sensation. Then come back to the thought. Repeat several times.
   - Step back; allow your thoughts to come and go as you observe your breath.
   - Play with your thoughts: Repeat them out loud over and over as fast as you can. Sing them. Imagine the thoughts as the words of a clown, as recordings getting all tangled up; as cute animals you can cuddle up to; as bright colors running through your mind; as only sounds.
   - Try loving your thoughts.
Practicing Mindfulness of Thoughts

PRACTICE MINDFULNESS OF THOUGHTS BY OBSERVING THEM

1. Notice thoughts as they come into your mind. As a thought comes into your mind, say “a thought has entered my mind.” Label the thought as a thought, saying, “The thought [describe thought] arose in my mind.” Use a gentle voice tone.

2. As you notice thoughts in your mind, ask, “Where did the thought come from?” Then watch your mind to see if you can see where it came from.

3. Step back from your mind, as if you are on top of a mountain and your mind is just a boulder down below. Gaze at your mind, watching what thoughts come up when you are watching it. Come back into your mind before you stop.

4. Close your eyes and scan your body for the first physical sensation that you notice. Then scan your mind for the first thought you notice. Shuttle back and forth between scanning for physical sensations and scanning for thoughts. Another time, replace scanning your body for physical sensations to scanning yourself for any emotional feelings. Then shuttle back and forth between an emotional feeling and a thought.

PRACTICE MINDFULNESS OF THOUGHTS BY USING WORDS AND VOICE TONE

5. Verbalize thoughts or beliefs out loud, using a nonjudgmental voice tone, over and over and over:
   - As fast as you can until the thoughts make no sense.
   - Very, very slowly (one syllable or word per breath).
   - In a different voice from yours (high- or low-pitched, like a cartoon character or celebrity).
   - As a dialogue on a TV comedy show (“You’ll never believe what thought went through my mind. I was thinking, ‘I’m a jerk.’ Can you believe that?”).
   - As songs, sung wholeheartedly and dramatically, in a tune that fits the thoughts.

PRACTICE MINDFULNESS OF THOUGHTS WITH OPPOSITE ACTION

6. Relax your face and body while imagining accepting your thoughts as only thoughts—sensations of the brain.

7. Imagine things you would do if you stopped believing everything you think.

8. Rehearse in your mind the things that you would do if you did not view your thoughts as facts.

9. Practice loving your thoughts as they go through your mind.

PRACTICE MINDFULNESS OF THOUGHTS BY IMAGINING THAT YOUR MIND IS:

- 10. A conveyor belt, and that thoughts and feelings are coming down the belt. Put each thought or feeling in a box labeled with the type of thought that it is (e.g., worry thoughts, thoughts about my past, thoughts about my mother, planning what to do thoughts). Just keep observing and sorting thoughts into the labeled boxes.

- 11. A river, and that thoughts and feelings are boats going down the river. Imagine sitting on the grass, watching the boats go by. Try not to jump on the boat.

- 12. A railroad track, and that thoughts and feelings are train cars going by. Try not to jump on the train.

- 13. A leaf that has dropped off a tree into a beautiful creek flowing by you as you sit on the grass. Each time a thought or image comes into your mind, imagine that it is written or pictured on the leaf floating by. Let each leaf go by, watching as it goes out of sight.

- 14. The sky, and thoughts have wings and can fly through the sky. Watch as each flies out of sight.

- 15. The sky, and thoughts are clouds. Notice each thought-cloud as it drifts by, letting it drift out of your mind.

- 16. A white room with two doors. Through one door, thoughts come in; through the other, thoughts go out. Watch each thought with attention and curiosity until it leaves. Let go of judgments. Let go of analyzing thoughts and of figuring out if they fit the facts. As a thought comes into your mind, say, “A thought has entered my mind.”

Dialectical Abstinence

ABSTINENCE
(Swearing off addictive behavior)

Pro: People who commit to abstinence stay off longer.

Con: It takes longer for people to get back “on the wagon” once they fall off.

HARM REDUCTION
(Acknowledging there will be slips; minimizing the damage, but not demanding perfection)

Pro: When a slip does happen, people can get back “on the wagon” faster.

Con: People who commit to harm reduction relapse quicker.

SYNTHESIS = DIALECTICAL ABSTINENCE

The goal is not to engage in addictive behavior again—in other words, to achieve complete abstinence.

However, if there is a slip, the goal is to minimize harm and get back to abstinence as soon as possible.

Pros: It works!

Cons: It’s work. You don’t get a vacation.

(You’re always either abstinent or working to get back to abstinence.)

An example of expecting the best and planning for the trouble spots: Olympic athletes must believe and behave as though they can win every race, even though they have lost before and will lose again.
Plan for Dialectical Abstinence

Plan for Abstinence

1. Enjoy your success, but with a clear mind; plan for temptations to relapse.
2. Spend time or touch base with people who will reinforce you for abstinence.
3. Plan reinforcing activities to do instead of addictive behaviors.
5. Build new bridges: Develop images, smells, and mental activities (such as, urge surfing) to compete with information associated with craving.
6. Find alternative ways to rebel.
7. Publicly announce abstinence; deny any idea of lapsing to addiction.

Plan for Harm Reduction

1. Call your therapist, sponsor, or mentor for skills coaching.
2. Get in contact with other effective people who can help.
3. Get rid of temptations; surround yourself with cues for effective behaviors.
4. Review skills and handouts from DBT.
5. Opposite action (Emotion Regulation Handout 10) can be rehearsed to fight guilt and shame. If no other option works, go to an anonymous meeting of any sort and publicly report your lapse.
6. Building mastery and coping ahead for emotional situations (Emotion Regulation Handout 19), and checking the facts (Emotion Regulation Handout 8), can be used to fight feelings of being out of control.
7. Interpersonal skills (Interpersonal Effectiveness Handouts 5–7), such as asking for help from family, friends, sponsors, ministers, or counselors, can also be helpful. If you are isolated, help can often be found via online support groups.
8. Conduct a chain analysis to analyze what prompted the lapse (General Handouts 7, 7a).
9. Problem-solve right away to find a way to “get back on the wagon” and repair any damage you have done (Emotion Regulation Handout 12).
10. Distract yourself, self-soothe, and improve the moment.
11. Cheerlead yourself.
12. Do pros and cons of stopping addictive behaviors (Distress Tolerance Handout 5).
13. Stay away from extreme thinking. Don’t let one slip turn into a disaster.
14. Recommit to 100% total abstinence.
Addict mind is:
- Impulsive
- One-minded
- Willing to do anything for a “fix”

When in addict mind, you are ruled by the addiction. The urges for habitual problem behaviors determine your thoughts, emotions, and behaviors.

Clean mind is:
- Naive
- Risk-taking
- Oblivious to dangers

When in clean mind, you are clean but oblivious to dangers that might cue habitual problem behaviors. You believe you are invincible and immune to future temptation.

Both extremes are DANGEROUS!

CLEAR MIND: The safest place to be.
You are clean, but you remember addict mind.
You radically accept that relapse is not impossible.
You enjoy your success, while still expecting urges and cues and planning for when you’re tempted.
Behavior Patterns Characteristic of Addict Mind and of Clean Mind

ADDICT MIND
- Engaging in addictive behavior.
- Thinking, “I don’t really have a problem with addiction.”
- Thinking, “I can do a little.”
- Thinking, “I can indulge my habit, if only on weekends.”
- Thinking, “I can’t stand this!”
- Glamorizing addiction.
- Surfing the Internet for ways to engage in addictive behaviors.
- Buying paraphernalia (food, drugs, videos, etc.) for addictive behavior.
- Selling or exchanging items related to addictive behaviors.
- Stealing to pay for addiction.
- Prostituting for money or for paraphernalia.
- Lying.
- Hiding.
- Isolating.
- Acting always busy; “Got to go!”
- Breaking promises.
- Committing crimes.
- Acting like a corpse.
- Having “no life.”
- Acting desperate/obsessed.
- Not looking people in the eyes.
- Having poor hygiene.
- Avoiding doctors.
- Other: ______________________
- Other: ______________________
- Other: ______________________

CLEAN MIND
- Engaging in apparently irrelevant behaviors that in the past inevitably led to addictive behavior.
- Thinking, “I’ve learned my lesson.”
- Thinking, “I can control the habit.”
- Thinking, “I don’t really have an addiction problem any more.”
- Stopping or cutting back medication that helps with addiction.
- Being in environments where others engage in addictive behaviors.
- Seeing friends who are still addicted.
- Living with people who are addicted.
- Keeping addiction paraphernalia.
- Carrying around extra money.
- Being irresponsible with bills.
- Dressing like an addict.
- Not going to meetings.
- Not confronting the problems that fuel my addictive behaviors.
- Acting as if only willpower is needed.
- Isolating.
- Believing, “I can do this alone.”
- Thinking, “I can take pain medicine/diet/engage in addictive behavior if prescribed or advised; I don’t need to say anything about my past addiction.”
- Thinking, “I can’t stand this!”
- Other: ______________________

Community Reinforcement

Community reinforcement means replacing addiction reinforcers with abstinence reinforcers.

REINFORCING ABSTINENCE IS CRITICAL

Reinforcers in your environment play a powerful role in encouraging or discouraging addictive behaviors.

To stop addictive behavior, you have to figure out how to make a lifestyle without your addictive behaviors more rewarding than a lifestyle with your addictive behaviors.

You have to find a way to get behaviors incompatible with addictions to pay off and be rewarded by those around you.

Willpower is not sufficient. If it were, we would all be perfect!

REPLACE ADDICTION REINFORCERS WITH ABSTINENCE REINFORCERS

Begin a series of action steps that will increase your chances of accumulating positive events to replace addictive behavior.

- Search for people to spend time with who aren’t addicted.
- Increase the number of enjoyable activities you engage in that do not involve your addiction.
- If you cannot decide what people or activities you like, sample a lot of different groups of people and a lot of different activities.

ABSTINENCE SAMPLING

- Commit to ___ days off your addiction, and observe the benefits that naturally occur.
- Temporarily avoid high-risk addiction triggers, and replace these with competing behaviors to get you through the sampling period.
- Observe all the extra positive events occurring when you are not engaging in addictive behaviors.

BURNING BRIDGES

Accept at the most radical level that you are not going to engage in addictive behavior again, and then move actively to cut off all addictive behavior options.

1. Make an absolute commitment to abstinence from the addictive behavior, which is (describe addictive behavior). Then walk into the garage of abstinence and slam the garage door shut. (Remember that the tiniest slit of space can let an entire elephant in.)

2. List everything in your life that makes addiction possible.

3. Get rid of these things:
   - Throw out contact information of people who collude with you.
   - Get rid of all possible cues and temptations.

4. List and do everything you can that will make it hard or impossible to continue your addictive behavior.
   - Ruthlessly and at every moment, tell the truth about your behavior.
   - Tell all your friends and family that you have quit.

BUILDING NEW BRIDGES

Create visual images and smells that will compete with the information loaded into your visual and olfactory brain systems when cravings occur.

Cravings and urges are strongly related to vivid images and smells of what is craved. The stronger the imagery or smell, the stronger the craving.

- Build different images or smells to think about. Try to keep these images or smells in memory when you have an unwanted craving. For example, whenever you crave a cigarette, imagine being on the beach; see and smell it in your mind to reduce the craving.

- When you have unwanted cravings, look at moving images or surround yourself with smells unrelated to the addiction. Moving images and new smells will compete with your cravings.

- “Urge-surf” by imagining yourself on a surfboard riding the waves of your urges. Notice them coming and going, rising high, going low, and finally going away.
Alternate Rebellion and Adaptive Denial

ALTERNATE REBELLION

When addictive behaviors are a way to rebel against authority, conventions, and the boredom of not breaking rules or laws, try alternate rebellion. Alternate rebellion replaces destructive rebellion and keeps you on a path to your goals.

Examples:
- Shave your head.
- Wear crazy underwear.
- Wear unmatched shoes.
- Have secret thoughts.
- Express unpopular views.
- Do random acts of kindness.
- Vacation with your family at a nudist colony.
- Write a letter saying exactly what you want to.
- Dye your hair a wild color.
- Get a tattoo or body piercing.
- Wear clothes inside out.
- Don’t bathe for a week.
- Print a slogan on a t-shirt.
- Paint your face.
- Dress up or dress down where doing so is unexpected.

ADAPTIVE DENIAL

When your mind can’t tolerate craving for addictive behaviors, try adaptive denial.

- Give logic a break when you are doing this. Don’t argue with yourself.

- When urges hit, deny that you want the problem behavior or substance. Convince yourself you want something other than the problem behavior. For example, reframe an urge to have a cigarette as an urge to have a flavored toothpick; an urge to have alcohol as an urge to have something sweet; or an urge to gamble as an urge to alternate rebellion (see above).

Other:

- Be adamant with yourself in your denial, and engage in the alternative behavior.

- Put off addictive behavior. Put it off for 5 minutes, then put it off for another 5 minutes, and so on and on, each time saying, “I only have to stand this for 5 minutes.” By telling yourself each day you will be abstinent for today (or each hour for just this hour, and so on), you are saying, “This is not forever. I can stand this right now.”
